Trial 'Unfair'

Major Ruled Not Guilty

OTTAWA (CP)—The Court Martial Appeal Court Thursday acquitted Maj. William Allan Platt of trafficking illegally in gold in Indochina in 1961.

MAJOR W. A. PLATT
... suffered injustice

The three-member court in a unanimous judgment found that the 44-year-old army officer, convicted by a court martial here in May, 1962, did not receive a fair trial.

"The conviction cannot stand," said Mr. Justice T. G. Norris who wrote the court's reason for judgment.

GROUNDS FOR APPEAL

Mr. Justice Norris said Maj. Platt, formerly of Cobourg and Picton, Ont., suffered "substantial injustice" with respect to eight of 14 grounds on which he based his appeal to the court martial appeal court.

The court granted Maj. Platt's appeal against his conviction, heard by the court last October, and ordered that "a finding of not guilty be recorded."

ON TRUCK TEAM

Maj. Platt was convicted of a breach of army discipline while serving with the International Truce Supervisory Commission in Indochina.

A court martial found him guilty of organizing and participating in the illegal transportation of gold between Laos and South Viet Nam.

He received a $500 fine and was given a severe reprimand a notation on his service record that affected his opportunities for promotion.

The judgment took strong exception to a decision of the judge advocate-general (Brig. W. J. Lawson) to refuse a request by R. K. Lushley, civil

Three Nations Map Union

DAMASCUS (UPI)—A joint Egyptian-Iraqi-Syrian commission was formed in Cairo Thursday to negotiate a federal union between the three nations, the Syrian government said Thursday night.

The action was announced by new Premier Salah el Bitar, a member of the Arab Ba'athist party which advocates such a union.

He said the union would be open to Algeria and the Yemen if they wanted to join.

LAY GROUNDWORK

Delegates from the new Syrian and Iraqi governments went to Cairo Thursday for talks with Egyptian officials aimed at laying the groundwork for such unity.

Bitar said the commission would negotiate and establish the basis for a federal union.

The findings of the proposed commission must be unanimous and would later form the basis for a plebiscite in all three nations "which must be carried out quickly," Bitar said.

ASKED TO PARLEY

Algeria and the Yemen have been invited to join the preliminary negotiations in Cairo if they wish, he said.

Bitar said the federation also would be open to "any other Arab nation that liberates itself."

Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Algeria and the Yemen claim they are the only "liberated" Arab nations. An Iraqi official said recently that such nations as Tunisia, Morocco and Libya were not "liberated."

Committee Can't Read RCMP Secret Report

ROADBLOCK BY BONNER

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

The B.C. government moved swiftly and without warning yesterday to block efforts of its public accounts committee to secure copies of an RCMP report on a Trans-Canada Highway project.

The committee is probing serious accusations against the department and Highways Minister Gagliardi by Montana contractor Dick Holzworth. Charges of "stalling" in attempting to gain access to the report were levelled by some committee members, Tuesday at Chairman Irvine Corbett.

Mr. Corbett promised then he would ask leave of the House as soon as possible to obtain the report.

He made his move at the end of yesterday's legislative sitting.

But it was effectively blocked by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

A resolution made by Mr. Corbett to the effect that the committee's request for the report be approved could not be dealt with without the unanimous consent of the House.

"I would have to oppose 49 public policy," said Mr. Bonner. His move brought cries of "shame" and "backing" from opposition benches.

Outside the House, Mr. Bonner said that police reports are never made public and that there was no justification for placing them in the hands of MLAs.

BLANKET THREAT
"In the hands of an unscrupulous government they could be used to blackmail everybody in sight."

They are not even shown to judges during court cases nor to presiding officers of a royal commission.

EFFECTIVENESS
Their release would destroy police effectiveness because much of their content is obtained upon condition that it not be made public.

Mr. Bonner touched briefly on Opposition leader Robert Strachan's objections during committee hearing earlier this week that committee counsel Lloyd McKenzie had been allowed the same access to the police report that was being denied to members.

PROCEDURE CITED
He said this is standard procedure for counsel, "who enjoy a special position," and can use such reports upon which to base questioning of witnesses. In the case of Mr. McKenzie, he added, he was accorded the special privilege of examining the report so that he would know what witnesses to call to obtain evidence relevant to the committee probe.

HEARSAY
The report is only hearsay evidence, he said, and to produce it as evidence at the committee hearings "would violate practically every concept of fair play and jurisprudence in our society."

Nobody who understood the situation properly would want to receive the report.

He pointed out that the committee is sitting in judgment in the probe and that it should not want hearsay evidence.

OBSTACLES?
Mr. Strachan said outside the House that it was an obvious attempt to place obstacles in the committee's path.

The committee is probing allegations that Highways Minister Gagliardi promised to reward a contracting company if it paid off a friend's debt of $3,702 and that a related com-

Rail Strike

France Faces New Crisis

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle Thursday took personal command of efforts to end the worst labor crisis of his regime and was faced immediately with a new strike threat by 300,000 more nationalized workers.

De Gaulle presided over a restricted meeting of cabinet ministers directly connected with the French economy which the president fears is endangered by the strike wave spearheaded by 200,000 defiant coal miners.

RAIL STRIKE

But shortly after the cabinet group met, rail union leaders ordered the approximately 300,000 employees of the state-operated French railways to stage a 24-hour strike today. The walkout, in protest against government rejection of demands for pay raises, is certain to halt the nation's rail system.

The central strike committee representing 200,000 state-employed coal miners rejected the government's first positive step to end the miners' two week old strike.

GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE

The government announced Thursday it would appoint a committee to investigate the miners' demand for an 11-per cent wage increase and a reduction in working hours from 47 to 40.

University—Official July 1

Clearihue to Be First Chancellor

By DON MATHESON

University of Victoria official comes into being July 1.

Retired county court judge J. B. Clearihue, chairman of the existing Victoria College Council, becomes first Chancellor of the university.

Those are among highlights provisions of new legislation—"An Act Respecting Universities"—introduced in the legislature Thursday.

It also creates a new Simon Fraser University somewhere in the Lower Fraser Valley.

Introduced by Education Minister Leslie Peterson, the bill creates an organization

common to all the public universities, including UBC.

It also allows for complete autonomy for all three and creates two new advisory boards.

Also made possible are increased university grants this year.

Under provisions of the legislation, Mr. Clearihue is designated chancellor of the university for at least six months after the bill—almost certain to pass the legislature—comes into effect July 1.

Outside the House, Mr. Peterson had nothing specific to say about increased financial aid to the universities over and above grants already announced.

But under a section "funds" the bill says:

"That in the event there is no legislative vote this year to provide funds for the universities, 'for in the event of an insolvency then' Premier Bennett, as finance minister, and Mr. Peterson can recommend supplying the funds out of general revenue."

He also said later that he was "confident" there would be an improvement in federal financial aid for education.

URGENT REQUIREMENT

This was because there was unanimous opinion across the country that greater federal aid for education was an "urgent requirement," he said.

The July 1 date for the legislation was selected by the boards of UBC and Victoria University as the date they wanted it to come into force, he said.

The legislation had been gone over by the committee he set up and "approved in principle" by the boards of both universities, he added.

MORE FLEXIBLE

Little in the legislation changes any of the powers of the universities, but makes the operations of various governing bodies more flexible.

The flexibility will allow the three institutions to conduct

Biggest Rally for Grits

6,000 Hear Pearson

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson made three speeches Thursday night to accommodate a big mass rally, largest so far in his April 8 election campaign.

He spoke to a crowd estimated at about 6,000 persons in the London arena, then spoke twice to about 1,200 more in a nearby school who had been unable to get into the arena.

"I don't like pro-Canadian on one side of a coin that has anti-American on the other," Mr. Pearson told an arena audience which was generous with its applause.

"We never had it so good," a woman shouted at one point.

Mr. Pearson got the loudest applause of the night when he retorted: "Ask that of the 541,000 who are looking for work."

He said this was standard procedure for counsel, "who enjoy a special position," and can use such reports upon which to base questioning of witnesses.

In the case of Mr. McKenzie, he added, he was accorded the special privilege of examining the report so that he would know what witnesses to call to obtain evidence relevant to the committee probe.

Bird Acts Lay Egg

LONDON, Ont. (UPI)—As far as some campaigners are concerned the general election race is for the birds.

The Liberals released 12 homing pigeons here Tuesday night to go to a rally for Liberal Lester Pearson in Joliette, Que. They never arrived.

And in Toronto, New Democratic candidate Robert Beardsley was suggesting that Canada was for the birds, when a canary flew through a window and landed on his head.

Up to Their Old Tricks

Exiled City Playgirls Irk Siberian Wives

MOSCOW (AP)—Irish Siberian housewives are protesting against exiling big city playgirls to their villages.

Speaking for the aroused village women, Mrs. V. Marina of Irkutsk, made the protest in the Moscow newspaper Literaturnaya Gazeta.

Mrs. Marina said she was incensed by reports from Leningrad that a young woman of easy virtue named Yocia was slated for exile to Siberia to mend her ways.

This is simply offensive and insulting for us Siberians," she wrote. "Won't this piece of goods from the capital find admirers even in a new place? She probably will."

"I know that the wives of a few Bodulba miners, for example, turned to the authorities with a request to quit sending the likes of Yocia to Bodulba."

Mrs. Marina's attack on the flashy housewives from the big cities was the latest in a series of complaints from the provinces about the flood of hooligans, idlers and undesirable who have been exiled to villages.

The exiles are supposed to be re-educated through manual labor on the farms. But reports indicate they are mostly drinking, brawling, thieving and loafing.

So the peasants are used at the city people for dumping their problems on them.

Fees for Sports Issue in Council

Fees charged by Greater Victoria school board for use of facilities by amateur sports organizations came under fire at Thursday's city council meeting.

Ald. A. W. Tuome said the scheme to pay a $5 subsidy for every registered member of an amateur team who lives in the city was designed mainly to meet the school board's rental.

AID TOP ISSUE

"With this as a start, it was hoped we could then go to the school board and get their support," he said. "We feel the board should be prepared to open public buildings for public use under proper controls." Ald. Millard Mooney said the question city council must decide first was simply, "Do we want to assist amateur sports in Victoria?"

"We have discussed this matter a great deal," he said. "We don't think it is right to subsidize outside players. But we don't know of any other way to help amateur sports as a whole. We should give this scheme a trial for perhaps one year to see how it works."

Mayor R. B. Wilson said he wouldn't like to see taxpayers' money spent on any scheme to help amateur sports outside of the city's own parks.

Your Good Health

Atomic Cocktail Sometimes Solution to Goitre Problem

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you recommend the atomic cocktail for goitre? Do all goitres respond to it? Please explain different treatments.—P.R.

Yes, I recommend the atomic cocktail only in suitable cases. The best-known cause is lack of iodine.

The thyroid gland produces a hormone called thyroxine. It has to have iodine (even though in only small traces) to do so. With iodine lacking, the thyroid gland, following nature's desperate urge to produce even under handicap, enlarges. The result: Goitre.

Use of iodized salt now has put an end to the majority of simple goitres from that cause.

OTHER CAUSES

However, there are also toxic goitres, which become overactive from some other cause. Cysts and tumors are two causes of such enlargement.

The atomic cocktail is used in some of these. The "cocktail" essentially is a small Hershey's probably is a factor, amount of iodine which has been made radioactive and then dissolved in a glass of water.

Since iodine automatically is conducted to the thyroid (where that element is needed), so is the radioactive iodine. There is radioactive properties quiet the overactivity.

The atomic cocktail is usually confined to patients over the age of 40.

It does not by any means eliminate all need for surgery. A goitre may be of such size that it interferes with breathing and swallowing. Or there may be special characteristics which make it mandatory to act immediately. Then surgery is the answer.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss lack of pigmentation in the skin. My skin is getting worse and seemingly there is nothing that can be done. Is it from lack of vitamins? Is it hereditary?—MRS. H.M.

This is called vitiligo, loss of pigment in patches of skin.

It is a thick discharge. Is this serious?—M.A.

Yes, infection anywhere is serious. You are younger than average to have prostate trouble, but as I've written before, it can occur regardless of age. You had better get back to your doctor.

Schools Festival

Pupils Near End Of Drama Contest

By HEIT BINNY

Competition in the 23rd annual Schools Drama Festival began to draw to a close Thursday night when three more plays, the 14th, 15th and 16th in a total entry of 19, were staged at Lansdowne.

The host school opened the program with The Wonder Hat, a play described by adjudicator Mrs. Verlie Cooter as "an odd choice for this age group." The Wonder Hat is, indeed, quite a sophisticated affair.

FACE LAG

Mrs. Cooter noted a paring in the production brought about through lack of movement. Nevertheless, she also observed "a quite effective set, a promising cast and a Parrot (Geoff Murray) who demonstrated quite strong stage business."

St. Margaret's School next presented the first act of Charlotte Hastings' High Ground.

Such is the usual construction of three-act plays that about all that can be achieved in the first act is to establish characters. Because of a lack of depth in the characterization Thursday night's production created only an indistinct picture.

The Nuns portrayed (requiring a total of more lightness in their portrayals) They were, said Mrs. Cooter, "too spiritual."

Denise Wilde as Sarah Carr did not attract audience sympathy as, perhaps, she should have done and as, no doubt, she would have done in the remaining two acts of the play. As Willy Pentridge, Rosalind Skinner "worked very hard and had put a lot of thought into her characterization."

City Studies Playground Tax Break

City council wants to know what it would cost to grant tax exemptions on private school playgrounds in Victoria up to the minimum area required by the department of education.

Until the amount of money is known, council deferred action on a recommendation that St. Louis College be granted exemption from taxes on an additional lot used as playground.

MAYOR'S PROPOSAL

The move was suggested by Mayor R. B. Wilson after a deadlock seemed certain in the clash between opposing groups of aldermen over granting the exemption.

Ald. Millard Mooney charged that it would amount to "violating" a council policy set in 1959 that no further tax exemptions be granted unless required by law.

"If this is approved I must support every private school that comes to this council for a tax exemption on playgrounds," he said. "We must be fair to them all."

OPEN DOOR

Ald. Geoffrey Eigelow also said approval would mean "opening the door" to every other private school in the city.

Finance chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell said his committee recommended granting the exemption in the case of St. Louis College because if the application had been made earlier it would have been granted "automatically."

"This is a special circumstance," said Ald. J. L. W. McLean. "It should not affect the council's general policy of being held as a precedent."

ian counsel for Maj. Platt, that a commission be sent to Indochina to collect sworn evidence from 15 defence witnesses.

This application by Mr. Lushley was made directly to the judge advocate - general. The court martial was adjourned while the judge advocate-general considered the request and later rejected it.

Mr. Justice Norris also found fault with the court martial's refusal to allow Mr. Lushley to file with the court the material on which he had based his application for a commission. Mr. Lushley wanted the court martial on the basis of this material to subpoena the 15 witnesses.

In addition Mr. Justice Norris said the judge advocate, Group Captain J. H. Holmes, the court's legal adviser, erred in not advising the court martial that there was no evidence that Maj. Platt was aware of an army order prohibiting commission personnel from transporting articles in or out of Vietnam which were not commission property. He said the order issued May 16, 1961 in Vietnam, while Maj. Platt was in Laos. "As there is no proof of promulgation of the order and no conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline cannot be inferred from the circumstances," there was no evidence upon which the accused could have been properly convicted," Mr. Justice Norris said.

Highly Effective

U.S. Anti-Sub Chief
Lauds Canada's Navy

OTTAWA (CP) — Vice-Admiral John W. Thach, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet's anti-submarine warfare force, says Canada has well-trained and highly effective anti-submarine warfare ships and aircraft.

"Without the help of our free world neighbors, the total anti-submarine warfare problem would be infinitely more difficult, if not impossible, to solve," Admiral Thach says in an article in a special issue of the U.S. Naval Institute Proceedings, a monthly magazine.

FIRST IN COPTERS

Another article on anti-submarine warfare says the Canadian Navy was the first to succeed in mating a helicopter with a destroyer.

The reference was to the mounting of a landing platform on HMCS Buckingham in 1956 and the subsequent 175 helicopter landings on it. Success of this venture has led to the current $22,000,000 program to fit helicopter hangars and landing platforms on St. Laurent class destroyers.

Four Hurt as Fists Fly
In Greece's Parliament

ATHENS (AP) — Greek members of Parliament swapped blows for 15 minutes Wednesday night. Three deputies and an usher were injured.

The house was debating a bill submitted by the Democratic Left Union, a pro-Communist party seeking to amend the internal security law.

A pro-Communist deputy called him a Gestapo officer. Fists flew.

He'll Attack John D

CALGARY (CP) — Douglas Harkness, former defence minister and now Progressive Conservative candidate in Calgary North, says he will take part in a public forum on national defence and nuclear arms in Ontario next week and later attend a debate but he denied he is "going out to attack anyone."

He was commenting on an interview in an Ottawa report, not carried by Canadian Press, that he would "intervene on a national scale" and aim to contradict some of Prime Minister Diefenbaker's recent statements on nuclear arms.

SAME LINE

"I will be taking the same line as I've been on previously," he said. "If I was out to attack anyone then it would surely not be Mr. Diefenbaker but the NDP."

He said he will take part in a public forum on defence in Toronto Thursday and attend a debate at the University of Western Ontario March 23.

Truth Squad Takes Break

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I. (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Thursday he faces attacks on himself greater than any other Canadian prime minister has been subjected to.

"There are powerful interests against me. They've found out they can't push me around," he said.

The Progressive Conservative leader spoke to a mid-morning crowd of about 900, including 200 standing at the back of a theatre, as he opened a one-day campaign visit to Prince Edward Island.

NO TRUTH SQUAD

An earlier speaker had called attention to the absence of the Liberal "truth squad" which made its first appearance at Mr. Diefenbaker's meeting at Moncton, N.B., Wednesday night.

THEY'LL BE SICK

The prime minister said that reports he is in ill health are "the essence of the Liberal program."

"They've identified the disease. I tell you, they're going to be a lot sicker than I am when this is over."

The prime minister said elementary financing procedures apply.

No Space for Women

NEW YORK — Astronaut Walter Schirra says there is no place in space for women, at least at present.

Schirra, interviewed on a children's television program, added with chivalry that "we will include one (woman) someday in our plans for space flights."

Schirra, who orbited earth six times last October, said someone with "an engineering mind, a scientific background, and who has gone through stresses of flying high-performance aircraft" has the proper background to become an astronaut.

"We have not found women who are capable of meeting this bill of goods or requirement," Schirra declared.

WARREN, Ohio — An 18-year-old girl's weight dropped from 136 pounds to 78 pounds after being kept in an unheated shed since last October. Doctors say Frances Jean Carr suffered malnutrition and will lose toes from frostbite as a result of the ordeal for which her aunt and father are being charged with cruel and inhuman treatment.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — David Shackney, 32, chicken farmer and part-time religious teacher, was convicted of holding six members of a Mexican family in involuntary servitude.

NEW YORK — The Loyal League of Yiddish Sons of Erin have chosen 22-year-old Leatrice Cohen of Brooklyn to reign over the annual St. Patrick's Day-Purim banquet today. Her father came from Belfast.

ST. LOUIS — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pogue had a fortune briefly. Mr. Pogue, a junk dealer, found $21,900 in a box he collected at a vacant house Sunday. Wednesday night two armed men robbed him of the money. The money belonged to an elderly man who didn't believe in banks and was thrown away by mistake.

HOLLYWOOD — Actor Van Johnson left Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after undergoing what was described as successful surgery for removal of a skin cancer on his left thigh. He will resume work on a movie he's making next Monday.

SANTA MONICA — Actress Peggy Ann Garner obtained a divorce from actor Albert Walmi after she told the judge she developed a thyroid condition because she and her husband argued continually over where they were to live.

MISS WAIN, 33, wanted Hollywood. Walmi, 33, wanted New York.

WINNIPEG — A Christian Science spokesman, Stephen Sametz of Winnipeg, has objected to a statement attributed to Alberta medical health officer Dr. Kurt Adler that Christian Scientists are partly responsible for a diphtheria outbreak in the Fort MacLeod area.

EDMONTON — Percy Thurlow, fired a year ago from his job as a cost analysis supervisor with Alberta Government Telephones was awarded $9,000 damages in Alberta Supreme Court. Mr. Justice J. V. Milvain said reasons given by AGT for Thurlow's dismissal were picaresque.

BONN — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats named two men to select his successor, amid increasing signs Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard will get the post. Chosen to find a replacement for the 87-year-old chancellor were parliamentary floor leader Heinrich von Brentano and party secretary Joseph Diefenbaker.

VATICAN CITY — Pope John says man must use the "gifts of intelligence and will" to help ensure the world's millions of the right to live in freedom from hunger. The 81-year-old pontiff was addressing a group of world figures from 12 nations, including 11 Nobel prize winners, attending a special assembly of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization in Rome.

NEW ORLEANS — Dr. Willy Ley, one of the pioneers in rocketry, predicts the United States would conduct manned orbital flights around the moon within four years. Ley also said the Russians now are about where the U.S. will be next year.

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands — Pedro Leon of Cuba set out from here to cross the Atlantic in a barrel, bound for his homeland. Beside him were his provisions of two bottles of water, two loaves of bread and two pounds of meat. He sailed two yards and turned over two.

Two bystanders rescued him and then two medical attendants took him to the local psychiatric hospital.

MORRISBURG, Ont. — A 73-year-old woman lay helpless and unable to call for aid for five days while her sister sat dead only six feet away. Mrs. Clare Jarvis, paralyzed for 10 years, lay in the back bedroom of her home while her sister, May Dickie, 69, died of a heart attack March 6.

LONDON — Blonde Mrs. Benita Gibson, 38, was granted a divorce on grounds of cruelty. She testified her husband rebuffed her efforts to stir up "some little flame of passion" when he came home from work.

ROME — Police captured Vito (The Wolf) Nardella, 39, an outlaw under sentence of life imprisonment for murder and robbery. Nardella had hidden for 12 years.

OTTAWA — Retirement of Lt. Col. Rene Landry, 65, as vice-president and assistant to the president of the CBC was announced. He will continue as a part-time consultant.

VERNON, Conn. — Truck driver Walter McCulloch, 43, got a bonus along with a ticket for a minor traffic violation. State trooper John Wittenberger also handed him a cigar because his wife had given birth to a daughter in a Hartford Hospital.

WASHINGTON — A reporter went right to the source when Boston area newspapers reported that Mrs. Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, was expecting her third child.

"I don't know for sure," confessed the 26-year-old Mrs. Kennedy.

MOSCOW — Dmitry F. Ustinov, boss of Soviet defence industry, will head the Soviet Union's new supreme national economic council.

VIENNA — Josef Cardinal Mindszenty will "certainly" go to Rome if he receives permission to leave Hungary. Josef Cardinal Koenig said Thursday.

MONTREAL (CP) — Paul Martin, former Liberal health minister, said Thursday French-speaking Canadians must not stop at the borders of Quebec in the re-conquest of their legitimate rights.

Speaking in a Montreal service club, Mr. Martin said French-speaking people in other provinces "are counting on Quebec."

There was little logic in separatist demands that the people of Quebec abstain from voting in the April 8 federal election. "It is not by shunning their country to the borders of Quebec, it is not by renouncing a right as important as that of electing the government of the whole country that the separatists will help the national cause of all French-Canadians wherever they are."

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. — Dennis Francis, whose doctor told him to "make things" to help heal his injured hand, has been ordered held for trial on charges he made 15 counterfeit coins.

LOUISVILLE, Que. (CP) — Real Caouette, deputy Social Credit leader, told a partisan crowd of 800 here Thursday night that Canadians are living in a "mad system" (un système de fous) and that they are governed by the most remarkable of the "mad ones" (fous).

He said the two older parties and financiers continuously tell lower income groups they must tighten their belts.

He said the creation of more credit is the only solution.

a little money can go a long way

Johnson compacts are amazing motors. Their initial cost is low yet their staying power is high. The compacts go a long way between gas stops (on 5 gallons of gas a 5 1/2 can cruise for 11 hours). They only need servicing once a year and practically never see the inside of a repair shop. They start with the first pull and run religiously season after season. In the long run, a Johnson gives you more dogged dependability for your dollars than any outboard at any price.

The compacts are light and trim. Bulk and weight is pared to a minimum. Underwater exhaust and beveled gears mean the compacts run quiet. They are long on features other small outboards skip on, such as full gearshift, complete corrosion proofing, fuel pump, thermostat-controlled cooling.

Find out how far your money will go. See the Johnson Compact 18, 10 and 5 1/2 at your Johnson Dealers. With almost a thousand dealers across Canada service is never a problem when you own a Johnson.

Unwanted Here

IT IS TO THE credit of Mr. Douglas that he should be quick to voice distaste over the Liberal Party's so-called "truth squad" which intends to follow Mr. Diefenbaker much in the guise of "informers" or "stool pigeons."

Most people will agree that this is a repugnant tactic which, even though it will fail of its purpose, is something that should not be introduced into Canadian affairs. It reduces national politics to a low status, or at least it would do so if people did not regard it with the contempt it deserves.

Mr. Diefenbaker is well able to ignore and counter any such stratagem, but that is not the point, which is that he is the prime minister of this country and as such warrants the respect which his office calls for.

Mr. Douglas has been premier himself and understands the protocol which should govern behavior in this context, even in the midst of an election. Mr. Pearson has not been one, though patently it is his consuming desire to be prime minister, and possibly his obsession in this respect overcomes the grace which in turn might be expected of him.

The NDP leader emphasized that whether one agrees or not with the policies of the Conservative leader, Mr. Diefenbaker is the prime minister and it is an insult to the intelligence of the people to have him shadowed by carping snoopers. He termed this degrading and unedifying, and most decent Canadians will agree with him.

What is sadly lacking in the political scene is the dignity that should match the ostensible status of all responsible politicians. Mr. Pearson himself has not shown too much of this ever since Mr. Diefenbaker deprived him of his great ambition last June, putting his political loss ahead of what should have been his recognition of the place a prime minister might rightfully claim as the operational head of the nation.

By permitting this unwanted "Madison Avenue gimmick" the Liberal leader suggests almost that his party must endeavor to win at all costs, no matter how. But he deprecates his own stature by lending it his consent.

Basically Honest

PEOPLE ARE perhaps somewhat prone to think that welfare recipients are living the life of Riley and "chiseling" at other people's expense.

The idea is wrong, and a moment's thought should convince anyone that welfare is no substitute for the greater earning power that comes from steady employment.

To be on welfare is not a desirable fate, and most often it is forced on individuals through no fault or inclination of their own.

The city welfare administrator has set at rest any notion that "chiselers" are rife among local recipients. The opposite is the case. Only two instances of prosecution on this account were recorded in all of last year, and in B.C. as a whole there were less than 70 instances of this nature.

There are occasional misfits who get away with the odd benefit; that is natural in any society, but the system of checking ensures that primarily only those in need are given assistance.

Welfare recipients are basically as honest as those in more fortunate circumstances; we have no licence to conclude otherwise and Mr. Hoonson does well to pay them due justice.

No Substitute

THE FAILURE of heavyweight boxer Cassius Clay to fulfill his prophecy of defeating his opponent by a knockout in the fourth round should be a valuable object lesson to many of our politicians—lightweights as well as heavyweights—who are so busy optimistically predicting the outcome of their own political fights in the present Canadian election arena.

They should not take heart from the fact that Mr. Clay eventually won his fight but rather digest the point that his prophecy—upon which he has based his reputation—was well and truly clobbered. Today, he is a laughing stock of the sports world and is not likely to again be taken seriously as a contender for the top spot of his profession until he proves himself by more than mere words.

Of course, politicians look upon election contests somewhat differently to the way boxing buffs view a fistfight. In the latter a competitor either wins, draws or loses, while in the former things are seldom so clear cut.

It has, in fact, become a Canadian political custom for the losing party to claim a great victory for its defeated candidate by using a score card to prove that because he got more votes this time than he did last time out and had a larger percentage ballot increase than his successful rival he therefore scored a great moral win for his party.

It never, for instance, ceases to dumbfound the average Canadian voter to hear on election night the various defeated party leaders pronounce themselves well pleased with the showing of their candidates and proclaim to all and sundry that their party had done as well or better than they had expected—while up to that very point they had been stumping the nation loud with prophecies that their party would unquestionably sweep the country and would undoubtedly be forming the next government.

The moral surely is (for politicians as well as Cassius Clay) that a loud mouth is no substitute for hard work and a good performance.

Move Over, George

IT IS A GREAT and generous gesture the United States Congress made this week in voting almost unanimously that Sir Winston Churchill be granted the honor of American citizenship.

Warmhearted tribute was showered upon the elder British statesman from all sides of the U.S. House upon the occasion, not the least of which was paid by Representative Manuel Celler of New York who described Sir Winston as "a giant in world history and a man for all seasons" as well as dubbing him "one of the greatest Englishmen known to history."

In so qualifying his praise the New York Congressman no doubt had in mind another great Englishman who not only became an American citizen but also president of the United States some years ago, Chap by the name of George Washington.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes, and ships, and scaling wex..."

By TOM TAYLOR

SO my friends of the Canadian Scottish turn up their noses at the idea of a walkathon in official guise. That is, in a kilt. Or, sans the kilt even, as milldamers.

And I never before knew it was demode for an infantryman to tackle a tough grind that was put up to him as a challenge.

Somebody says it wouldn't be in keeping with military dignity to do so, but, begging everybody's pardon, military dignity my foot.

If soldiers can't come out fighting—I mean walking—in company with some civilians their dignity isn't going to be enhanced.

For some folks are going to think they fear uniformed defeat.

The result of this ukase of course is that some Canadian Scot is going to miss the additional chance of the unique prize this column reported as awaiting the first man across the finishing line if, pursuant thereto, he was in traditional regiment garb.

To wit: A new sportswear which a friend of mine is ready and eager to award.

Now a special prize of this nature would be something to show one's grandchildren as a badge of distinction; not a mere anonymous copy of regular issue. Too bad.

It seems though that the Can Scots can enter the 50 mile hike, via the Colonist's walkathon on March 30, if they tramp the distance in civvies.

What a come-down! Shouldn't they be out there with kilts a-flying and, perhaps, a piper urging them on?

Who started this marathon-walk business, anyway? Wasn't it the U.S. Marines, whose standard of 20 hours for 50 miles was vaunted as a fitness goal for all true-blooded men and, as we have seen, women too?

Civilians really horned into the affair. The Montezuma boys in effect were telling the military world how to tramp along the road as well as into the halls of their famous song.

And that should have been enough to set military feet twitching everywhere. For what a marine can do any soldier, sailor or airman should be able to equal or surpass.

Or so in my old-fashioned way I was prone to think.

Alas, how the world changes.

Come to think of it I believe that army marksmen shoot against civilians at Bales; that service units engage in sports in competition with civilian teams; that military men have vied with non-military men in boxing and mountaineering, et al.

Astonishing surely if in what should be their own speciality, hoofing it in a long hike, they must do so stripped of their military identity. And thus their clan.

I hope other service units here don't feel the same compulsion to force their men to march incognito.

The Patrias, for instance, who should be rarin' to go. They've been winning all sorts of physical contests of late and a walkathon should be a piece of pie for them.

But if they all duck it, or are obliged to duck it, there will be only one conclusion to be drawn. I'm afraid. And I needn't repeat it.

As an old Highlander I am completely let down by the Armory town, however. In truth I feel wholly deflated. I never thought I'd see the day that has come upon me.

And the thought of that sumptuous sportswear leaves me bereft.

International Commentary

A Question of Political Will

By DEREK PAYTON SMITH from London

NEXT May's General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade ministerial meeting at Geneva, expected to launch the so-called Kennedy Round of multilateral negotiations aimed at lowering trade barriers, will be of outstanding importance.

It follows last year's Dillon Round and will be the most ambitious of the five tariff negotiations conducted by GATT since the end of the Second World War.

The boldest of President Kennedy's projects — the elimination of tariffs altogether on a wide range of industrial goods — is no longer an immediate possibility owing to the failure of the European Economic Community to accept Britain as a member; though there are moves within the United States Senate to amend the American legislation to cover the new situation.

However, GATT's British-born executive secretary, Mr. Eric Wyndham-White, believes that a reduction of industrial tariffs by some 50 per cent over five years should be attainable.

In this connection it is satisfactory to note that he seems to visualize the possibility of special arrangements for developing countries, who may find themselves in difficulties in reciprocal bargaining owing to the modest range of concessions they can afford to offer.

But the May meeting should set in train something wider than just another round of the usual GATT tariff negotiations—mainly concerned with trade in manufactures between advanced industrialized nations.

The GATT Council has recommended that this time the ministers of 44 member countries should also consider measures for the expansion of and for providing access to trade of developing countries markets for agricultural and other primary products.

It would be foolish to indulge in any facile optimism about the prospects of an early solution to these trade problems in developing countries; for instance the provision of wider markets for the simpler manufactures and semi-manufactures of countries in the earlier stages of industrialization and the impact of this competition from the low-cost producers on the economic life of the industrial countries.

This has led to considerable political pressure within these last countries to apply discriminatory measures against low-cost producers, the most notable instance of which is perhaps the past refusal of a number of GATT members to accept full GATT commitments to Japan.

In the long run the answer to this problem must come from specialization by the more advanced economies in producing more complex and sophisticated manufactures — a process which the liberalization of world trade promoted by GATT will do much to help along.

An instance of how this is happening is the contraction of the British cotton textile industry which has occurred over the past few years concurrently with increased exports from Asian producers to the British market.

But in the shorter run there are bound to be difficulties; for the survival of many of the established industries and the livelihood of their workers these conflicting interests has is involved. An attempt to find a solution reconciling been made under the auspices of GATT through the five-year cotton textiles arrangement which came into effect last October.

As to the problem of outlets for primary products, there can be no doubt that the chances of finding a solution will depend on the attitude of European importing countries. Britain's trading policy in this field has of course always been an extremely liberal one. Moreover, recently there have been encouraging signs of a more liberal approach within the European Community itself. For instance, the commission's hold plan for closer economic co-operation between the community and Latin America, which is due to be considered by member governments in April, provides within the framework of the Kennedy Round for a wide range of tariff reductions on tropical agricultural products and some raw materials and semi-manufactures of special interest to Latin America.

Again the EEC has shown its concern for outside producers in negotiating its new convention with its associate states. In this it reduced the preferential advantages enjoyed by the associates within the EEC market on a range of tropical products, offering them instead a greater quantity of direct financial aid through the Community Development Fund.

But the most difficult aspect of this problem is the provision of markets for temperate agriculture produce. GATT has already given a lot

Their Achilles Heel

By CANNANDRA from London

A WEEK ago newspaper correspondents were invited to dive under the sea in an American Polaris submarine just off the Clyde.

And fine pieces they wrote with just that correct amount of blood-chilling detail for, with all the good and optimistic will in the world, it is hard to write a comforting and reassuring piece about a nuclear submarine.

Subs aren't chubby.

We were told about the deadly relaxed mood of the crewed crew and how they had been specially adjusted to "taking out" a city in the same easy way that one takes a cigarette out of a packet.

We were informed in managing balanced prose how these calm confident technicians wandered about their death-dealing shark with all the pose of "integrated" men strolling into a bar and ordering a dry martini without even the tremor of an eyelid for the avellé blonde miraculously accompanied at the other end of the bar.

They were "dedicated" men. They were the new elegant executioners of the world. When I read these well-groomed stories, I felt they were too bad to be true.

Too inhuman. Too polished. Too detached.

And I was right. I suspected that these calm submariners had an Achilles heel with a vein on it, and that they probably had a nice human weakness or some domestic attribute that would show that in the end they were not supermen at all—but good clean Coca-Cola loving kids from Osh Koah, from Kalamazoo and from the Ozarks.

What are the real interests of these cold impersonal underwater men? I will tell you. They are trying to grow radishes below the waves, and carrots and lettuce too. True there is no garden at the bottom of their submarine, but there are jars filled with water and in them they try to grow the given groceries by the methods of hydroponics.

So there is hope after all. The aquatic killers, with the cold academic approach, sliding through the darkness forty fathoms below, listening to Frank Sinatra or Perry Como

In South Africa

Language Problem

By BERTHA KOLOMON from Johannesburg

WHAT difficulties language has caused in South Africa! In 1914, only four years after the Union of South Africa came into being, General Hertzog split away from General Botha, then prime minister, largely on the language question—the right of Afrikaans to be on equal terms with English as an official language.

Today no one questions that right. Some would say that with the Afrikaner being 60 per cent of the population, it is even ousting English in general use. But of course, that does not affect the fact that they are both official languages. In the new Constitution of the South African Republic, the only entrenched clause is that Afrikaans and English shall be the two official languages of the country. This clause may be altered only by a two-thirds majority of both Houses sitting together, at the third reading.

Now, along comes the government with its Transkei constitution bill to set up the Transkei as the first semi-independent Bantustan. But, in the bill there is a clause which makes Xhosa, the African language of the area, the official language in the Transkei. Sir de Villiers Graaff, the leader of the United Party, the opposition, very properly pointed out that since the Transkei would still be part of South Africa, Xhosa could not be made an official language, except by a two-thirds majority of a joint sitting of both houses.

The opposition's plan, apparently, apart from the sound technical objection, was to focus the country's attention on the significant change that the bill would bring about in the country by forcing the government to use the special machinery of the constitution to pass it.

Clearly, the government was not happy over this move. A full scale joint sitting debate on the Transkei bill which established a separate Transkei citizenship, a separate Transkei flag, a separate Transkei anthem, all sensitive spots in this country's history, would probably take days.

This was the last thing the government desired. It would be too reminiscent of the painful constitution crisis of a few years ago when the government sought to remove the Coloreds from the common roll.

With a joint sitting the Transkei constitution bill would no longer look like a simple little bill.

After some thought, the government came up with a neat solution. Rather than subject the Transkei bill itself to the fierce light of a joint sitting, Dr. Verwoerd introduced a bill to amend the Republic of South Africa Constitution Act so as to enable a Bantu language such as Xhosa, Zulu, etc., to become an official language in Bantu territories when they become self-governing.

This blanket clause is a clever manoeuvre, for though this bill too has had to face a joint sitting and considerable opposition, it is a much simpler affair than the other would have been.

Better still, from the government viewpoint, the bill has, in fact, distracted the country's attention from the real dangers involved in the fragmentation of the country by Bantustans and the real danger point of the Transkei bill.

That the bill is a danger point, is evidenced by the breaking away from the party here and there of old die-hard Nationalist party members, simply because they object to these Bantustans.

The latest of these break-away movements calls itself "The Save South Africa Organization," and seems a little more solidly based than the sporadic organization hitherto. This organization contends that Bantustans are not traditional Nationalist policy, only Dr. Verwoerd's.

On this basis it has published a seven-point plan of action and appeals to all citizens to vote against the prime minister's policy. It may well be that Bantustans are not traditional Nationalist policy as laid down by Dr. Verwoerd's predecessors, such as Malan and Strijdom. But with Dr. Verwoerd at the helm, these cracks in the Nationalist party's massive structure are little more than negligible so far.

The Packsack

By GREGORY CLARK

A WOMAN who has had more than her share of troubles in this world has been famous among us, her friends, for the fact that nobody has ever called on her who didn't find her up to her ears in work.

Vacuuming, polishing, washing, cooking, preserving, cake-making, sewing, even hammering, painting or installing fresh washers in the plumbing.

To me, she has more than once explained that it is far, far less tiring to work than to sit idle and worry. By busy day's end, she is so weary, she has no time to worry in bed. She rejoiced in work, because it was an escape.

Recently, she has come into good fortune. Her husband has been called away to the Elysian fields. Her fractious children have gone far off to good jobs in England, Brazil, India. They will hardly ever write her. She is free.

Finding her sitting with folded hands in her immaculate apartment, I expressed my surprise.

"I am afraid," she said, "I am going to sit here and worry myself sick."

Today in History

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

French navigator and pioneer Samuel de Champlain sailed from France 360 years ago today—in 1603—to visit Canada and make a reconnaissance trip up the St. Lawrence as far as the Lacine Rapids.

In 1604 he took part in the founding of Ste. Croix and the following year was among the founders of Port Royal. He explored and mapped the Acadia and New England coasts and in 1607 returned to France. In 1608 he founded Quebec and spent the rest of his life developing and strengthening the colony there. He died at Quebec City in 1635.

1917—Czar Nicholas II of Russia abdicated.

1843—Father Beldard landed on Vancouver Island to become the first priest there.

Post-War Period! There's No Such Thing

Lots of Little Wars Keep Things Going

Looking at the world as a whole, there is never anything one could call a post-war period.

Almost every week of the year shots are being exchanged in several different places over a variety of issues. Other conflicts are dormant or simmering.

Last week there were at least 11 places in Africa, the Middle East and Asia alone where hostilities were actively in progress or where armed conflict was temporarily in abeyance or threatened to break out.

Politically the little wars can be divided into four categories, though in several cases these overlap. They are:

Anti-Colonial Uprisings

● Angola — A Portuguese army of 40,000 is fighting African guerrilla forces estimated at between 5,000 and 15,000. The original insurrection has been largely brought under control, but guerrillas are still active in northwest regions.

● Pogo — A terrorist offshoot of banned Pan-African Congress, operating in the Transkei — the first Bantu "state" set up under South Africa's apartheid laws. Pogo is known to have been responsible for the murder of several whites and has also attacked members of African Territorial Authority.

Revolutionary Uprisings

● Yemen — New Republic government's army reinforced by 18,000 to 20,000 Egyptian troops is fighting loyal tribes of deposed Imam who are backed by arms from Saudi Arabia and Jordan. Republicans hold Sana'a, the capital, and are advancing in the south.

Minority Revolts

● Shan and Karen revolt in Burma — Insurgents 4,000. Out of a total population of 20,000,000 — want a Federal Burmese State with local autonomy. In 1962 General Ne Win seized power, determined to eliminate rebels, but has made negligible progress.

● Kurds in Iraq — Powerful section of 1,000,000 Kurds in north of Iraq wants local autonomy and share of oil revenues. Kurdish tribesmen virtually control northern Iraq after 18 months of war against Iraqi Air Force and Army.

● Nagas in Northern India — One million Nagas in remote northeast of India want independence. An armed revolt has dragged on since 1956 with 40,000 Nagas facing Indian Regular Army troops.

● Somalis in Kenya — Somali tribesmen in northeastern Kenya want to secede and join Somalia. Somalis are determined to fight Africans if Kenya becomes independent without their secession. Africans feel equally strongly that Kenya must remain intact.

Local Wars

Vs. Communism

● South Vietnam — Communist supported guerrilla forces in the north (Vietcong), are waging war on South Vietnam which is backed by massive non-combatant U.S. support. Present scorecard: South is making slight gains.

● Laos — Fighting between left-wing pro-Communist forces (backed by Communist China and North Vietnam) and right-wing elements (supported by the U.S.) threatened to develop into full-scale East-West war. Laos was neutralized in 1962 and all foreign troops were to be withdrawn. There are signs that all Communist volunteers from North Vietnam have not yet gone home.

● Tibet — The country has had 13 years of sporadic armed revolt against Chinese occupation forces. Brunt of fighting is borne by Khampa tribesmen of East Tibet who make up one-third of population.

Khampa resistance is believed dying out for lack of arms and supplies.

● Quemoy — Quemoy (80,000 troops) and its partner Matsu (20,000 troops) are outposts of Nationalist Chinese regime on Formosa. Nationalists claim island forces are not bound by strictly defensive nature of their treaty with the U.S.

Lord Chief Justice Defines Citizen's Duty

'State Above Everything Else'

By EDWIN ROTH
from London

In white wig and ermine-trimmed scarlet robe, Baron Parker of Waddington, Lord Chief Justice of England, asked a newspaperman who refused to betray a confidential source of information:

"How can you say there is dishonor on you if you do what is your duty as a citizen to put the interests of the state above everything else?"

This is horribly similar to what Adolf Eichmann and his defence attorney kept saying at Eichmann's trial in Jerusalem.

But nobody had expected to hear a Lord Chief Justice of England declare, almost 18 years after the end of the Second World War, that a citizen's duty is to put the interests of the State above everything else.

In this case, "everything else" meant such things as personal honor, personal conscience and professional ethics. Recently (on March 7) two British newspapermen went to jail because they had disobeyed British judges' formal commands to reveal their confidential sources.

Brendan Mulholland, 29, who works for Lord Rothermere's conservative Daily Mail, is the son and brother of newspapermen. He was jailed six months for contempt of court.

Reginald Foster, 38, who works for the conservative tabloid Daily Sketch, also belonging to Lord Rothermere, was jailed three months.

(Foster's son, Christopher, was, until recently, a Daily Colonist reporter.)

Both had lost historic legal battles for the right not to betray their sources — first before the High Court, then before the Court of Appeal. The House of Lords Appeal Committee refused them permission for an appeal to the House of Lords, Britain's Supreme Court.

Appeals to the House of Lords are permitted only if the law — especially the British

Newsmen Chose Ethics

"Common Law" of legal precedents — is not clear. The House of Lords Appeal Committee ruled that the law was clear in these cases.

By that, it was formally and legally determined, for the first time in the long history of the British press, that the professional ethics of journalism have no legal protection in England. This is, of course, a tremendous blow to press freedom.

Against irresponsible journalism, the British libel laws give more than enough protection. They are probably the strictest in the free world. In Britain, even an absolute truth can be legally libel in certain circumstances, as "prima facie" libel is anything tending to expose anybody to hatred, ridicule or contempt.

These laws often hinder press freedom, especially the exposure of crimes in the press. But now, anyone in Britain who may want to tell any newspaper anything — for example about crime, corruption or police brutality — knows that the newspaperman may be forced into the choice between naming the informant, or going to jail.

During the long legal fight about Mulholland and Foster, Attorney-General Sir John Hobson often pointed out that, in Britain, doctors, bankers, members of parliament, and even priests have no legal protection for their ethical duty not to betray informants.

But in Britain, custom and unwritten laws are almost as important as written legislation. Newspapermen were never before put under such pressure because British judges, the tribunal sends him to the High Court, where a judge again orders the question to be answered. Further refusal to answer becomes contempt of court, punishable by the High Court judge entirely as that judge determines.

In Ireland and Australia, Under the 1921 law, such a tribunal can enforce testimony on oath. If a witness refuses, the tribunal sends him to the High Court, where a judge again orders the question to be answered. Further refusal to answer becomes contempt of court, punishable by the High Court judge entirely as that judge determines.

Further refusal to answer becomes contempt of court, punishable by the High Court judge entirely as that judge determines.

confessional secrets of a Roman Catholic priest are legally privileged in Britain was never raised in modern times — because no British lawyers or judges were stupid enough to put this pressure on a priest.

Significantly, it was not an ordinary court which gave Mulholland and Foster the choice between jail or dishonor, but a special judicial tribunal created by the government under a law passed in 1921.

This tribunal had to investigate how the homosexual Admiralty clerk William John Vassall could spy for Russia inside the British Admiralty for seven years.

In October, Vassall was sentenced to 18 years' jail. Immediately after his trial, most British newspapers reported that elementary security had been scandalously neglected.

Mulholland wrote that Vassall was called "Auntie" by Admiralty colleagues; that two Admiralty officials had "sponsored" Vassall, so that he escaped close screening; that a girl typist at the Admiralty had said no clerk with Vassall's small salary could enjoy Vassall's living standard honestly.

Despite the tribunals' formal command, Mulholland refused to say who had told him all that.

Foster reported that Vassall had bought women's clothing for himself. Vassall admitted during his public examination before the tribunal that he had bought women's underwear, and had worn it.

The tribunal wanted to know who had given Foster this true, confirmed information. But Foster insisted that revealing his informant would be a breach of his professional ethics.

Under the 1921 law, such a tribunal can enforce testimony on oath. If a witness refuses, the tribunal sends him to the High Court, where a judge again orders the question to be answered. Further refusal to answer becomes contempt of court, punishable by the High Court judge entirely as that judge determines.

In Ireland and Australia, Under the 1921 law, such a tribunal can enforce testimony on oath. If a witness refuses, the tribunal sends him to the High Court, where a judge again orders the question to be answered. Further refusal to answer becomes contempt of court, punishable by the High Court judge entirely as that judge determines.

LORD PARKER

which have much originally British law, recent similar refusals by newspapermen to answer judges' questions for their sources were punished by deliberately small, symbolic fines.

This case has led to furious debates in Britain's Parliament and further attempts will be made to change the law.

Whatever happens, Mulholland and Foster have ensured that every British newspaperman and every foreign correspondent working in Britain must commit contempt of court rather than betray a source.

The precedent they have created not only confirms British law — but also the professional ethics of newspapermen who do not believe that any free citizen has the duty to adopt the gruesome principle of "The State Above Everything Else."

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, not more than 200 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

On March 10 you published an article headed "UBC Professor: Macdonald Reporters Given Inaccurate Data." As the professor involved I must refute this statement.

I was one of several persons advising Dr. Macdonald during the preparation of the report. My addresses in the Okanagan were intended to explain how the recommendations concerning that region were reached. I pointed out that total population figures were only one guide to the needs of an area; the number of students available in any particular year is much more useful. I went on to say that to the extent that the section of the report dealing with the Okanagan emphasized total population it had, perhaps, been misleading.

I mentioned that we began with estimates obtained from the Bureau of Economics and Statistics. These figures were accurate estimates of the population of the school districts for which we requested data and were most helpful in our work. Far from wishing to accuse or charge the Bureau of Economics and Statistics, I would want to thank and compliment the staff of that agency for the prompt and accurate assistance they provided.

Books Needed

As Canadian wives of teachers sent out here by our Canadian External Aid Office, we are living in Kano Province in Northern Nigeria.

The elementary schools in this province are desperately in need of reading material. Any book, magazine, text book or dictionary, suitable for elementary school aged children would be most welcome, for these schools have virtually nothing in supplementary reading.

Knowing of the number of books available in Canadian children, we feel that there must be many books no longer needed which parents would be pleased to contribute. These books could be tied, labelled and sent as "printed matter only" which is the cheapest postage rate, to Books from Canada, PMB 3129, Kano, Northern Nigeria.

The Kano Native Authority have agreed to help us with the distribution of the books. Each book will be marked, on arrival, as a gift from Canada.

EDMONTON (CP)—The death sentences of convicted murderers William Huculak and Raymond Workman have been commuted to life imprisonment.

Final Trimming For City Budget

Trimming estimates into the final Victoria budget for 1963 begins next Thursday.

Finance chairman Ald. Arthur Dowell repeated his earlier warning that city council may be forced to abandon its pay-as-you-go policy.

"We haven't borrowed any sizeable amount for the past 10 years," he said, "but we may have to do so this year in order to carry out some projects which, although not essential, are certainly highly desirable."

HOW THEY CUT

Departmental estimates are dealt with by each of the two major committees. In turn, then final cutting is accomplished by a joint committee of the whole council.

Space-age industries without smoking chimney stacks and unpleasant odors are the target of the Greater Victoria industrial research commission, chairman Ald. A. W. Toome said yesterday.

He told council windows of vacant business premises are like "empty eyes" of the city and mean loss of jobs and buying power for the entire community.

Commission plans to spend $6,000 this year in an attempt to attract new light industry. Council approved city's $2,305 share.

SQUARE SURVEY

A complete survey of the scope and cost of rehabilitating Bastion Square was ordered by council. It will, among other things, determine the cost of renovating and upkeep of the former Duncan building, a key property in the scheme, which was recently purchased by the city for $45,000.

Ald. Austin Curtis said he wanted the survey to report also on the advisability of demolishing the building to extend the open space of the square.

LANDSCAPE PARK

Council also decided to go ahead under the works program with $3,250 worth of landscaping for a new park at the corner of Humboldt and Blanshard.

It approved a suggestion that when the park is dedicated it should be in the name of the late Bishop Edward Grigge who founded the nearby Church of Our Lord.

Nurses Quit Our Hospitals, Go to U.S.

OTTAWA (CP)—Some major federal government hospitals are one-third or more understaffed in nurses while Canadian nurses are pouring into the United States, the head of a civil service organization said Thursday night.

L. W. C. S. Barnes, president of the Professional Institute of the Public Service, said his organization had tried, along with other civil service associations, to suggest ways this and other problems can be discussed with the government, but has made few yards.

Mr. Barnes, who is chief of a branch in the defence department's inspection services, spoke to the institute's 43rd annual meeting.

Mr. Barnes said the institute and other civil service groups had difficulty putting their views before the government on keeping civil service salaries in line with private rates.

Call-Girl Witness Threatened

CALGARY (CP)—Another witness testified Thursday that he was threatened with bodily harm if he gave "damaging" testimony in connection with an alleged call-girl operation here.

The witness, testifying at the trial of seven women accused of conspiring to live off the avails of prostitution, said he was threatened with disfigurement by a girl at a dance hall prior to the preliminary hearing of the charges, which was held in January.

A taxi driver testified Wednesday he was told he would "end up floating down the river" if he implicated any of the accused.

Alma Mater Societies of the Universities of British Columbia and Victoria

Ladies and Gentlemen — Citizens of B.C.:

The present action which is presently being carried out by the students of the Universities of British Columbia and Victoria is the result of thoughtful and responsible planning by students, faculty and alumni at both these institutions.

We feel that this is the time for you, the constituents of this Province, to decide on the fate of higher education here in British Columbia. High Education in our province faces a crisis. The Dr. John B. Macdonald Report on Higher Education has outlined recommendations which, if implemented, will overcome such a crisis. The onus is now on the appropriate governmental authorities to take such recommendations into account and to present suitable legislation for implementation. For the future of this Province, we feel it is imperative that this plan be adopted and therefore congratulate the Hon. Leslie Peterson on his recent stand in which he gave support for the Macdonald Report.

In the past, however, the Provincial Government has never provided the existing public institutions of higher learning with the funds both requested and desperately required. This is the immediate crisis which we are now confronted with. If higher education is to succeed in the future, a start must be made now by the Provincial Government in providing the requested operating grants to the University of B.C. and the University of Victoria.

If the Universities of this Province do not receive the funds requested this year, or if the present inadequacy of academic facilities is not alleviated, the inevitable consequences will be:

- considerably higher tuition fees will have to be paid
- the Province's present academic institutions will be reduced to a much lower standard than they have at present
- enrollment will have to be limited, thus preventing a considerable percentage of high school students from receiving a university education in British Columbia.

For these reasons, responsible students with the support and direction of the Alma Mater Societies at the University of B.C. and University of Victoria will be sacrificing classes this weekend to ask citizens in their home communities to support a fair deal for higher education in this Province. If you are asked by one of these students to sign a petition stressing the above, please greet him warmly and ask him questions on the situation — he will be glad to oblige. If, however, you are not approached by students, we would urge you to sign in the space below and send this letter to your Member of the Legislative Assembly in Victoria.

We urge you to give your whole-hearted support to our campaign.

Sincerely yours,

Douglas Stewart, President, Alma Mater Society, University of B.C.
Malcolm Scott, President-elect, Alma Mater Society, University of B.C.
Alf Pettersen, President, Alma Mater Society, University of Victoria

DEAR M.L.A.:

I fully support the stand which is being taken by the students at the Universities of British Columbia and Victoria and would ask you to fully support their stand in the Legislature at your earliest convenience.

B.C. Facing Threat Of Drought

VANCOUVER (CP)—

With a thin winter snow-pack, British Columbia faces a serious drought possibility this summer, the experts say.

Interior fruit growers will be hard hit, and lack of runoff water also means early forest fires and a low minimum hatch.

M. I. Hunter, B.C.'s water supply forecaster, said Thursday most regions have well below average snow.

Ferry Trip 'Cruise'

U.S. Newsmen Got Red Carpet Treatment

The B.C. government ferries came in for a fair share of praise in an American newspaper recently.

In a column for the San Diego Evening Tribune, Copley News Service correspondent Robert Betts told of a meeting with Premier Bennett in which the premier promised him red carpet service for his trip aboard the Mv. Queen of Vancouver from Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen.

"I was greeted by a uniformed official," writes the correspondent Betts.

"He said, 'We were expecting you, sir,' and escorted me down the ramp. It was like being piped aboard."

Mr. Betts described the ferry as a large white vessel with flowing lines.

"No grubby, creaking, cross-river ferry boat."

"She looked fit for a luxury cruise to the South Sea Islands."

He was met by Capt. Owen Jones, who offered him the run of the ship.

Mr. Betts was most impressed by the fact the ferry was equipped with four state rooms, and with the restaurant and coffee bar setup.

The trip over, Capt. Owen wished his guest goodbye and asked him to visit again soon.

"The crossing had taken just over 30 minutes, but I went ashore with memories of an extremely pleasant pleasure cruise," concluded Mr. Betts.

Central Saanich Boosts Staff Pay

Wage increases amounting to a total of $1200 per year were granted by Central Saanich council this week to 10 municipal employees.

The staff, which has no written contract with the municipality, has achieved parity with other municipal employees elsewhere on Vancouver Island, said a spokesman.

Council approved an increase of $150 a month, which would average $35 per person, for police, public works, employees, office staff and the waterworks man. The monthly payroll prior to the increase was about $6,000.

Trio Indicted

Mail-Order Land Sale Called Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. justice department announced Thursday the indictment of three Miami, Fla. men on fraud charges based on the sale of Arizona land by mail.

In the first indictment resulting from a broad-scale department investigation of mail-order real estate operations, the government named these defendants:

Dore Aubach, David Prosser, Randall and Irving Gottlieb, all of Miami and all officers of Lake Mead Rancheros Inc., which has offices in Miami and Hollywood, Fla.

DESERT LAND

Attorney General Robert Kennedy said the men had advertised as developed a number of "king-sized western estates" near Lake Mead in Arizona. Kennedy said most of the property is, in fact, totally undeveloped desert range land an 12 miles from Lake Mead.

The 22-count indictment said the defendants sold property to at least 1,000 persons through mail-order advertising.

In the past two years, Kennedy said, "we have experienced a sharp increase in the sale by mail of nearly worthless land for greatly inflated prices."

'Screen Contractors'

Liberal leader Ray Per- board to keep "fly-by-night" rault told the Legislature Thursday that if B.C. had a proper pre-qualification system for screening contractors, "we wouldn't be there would be no highways wasting the taxpayers' money probe going on today."

Speaking to the estimates of courthouse, referring to the Highways Minister Gagliardi public accounts committee's he recommended the appoint hearings into the allegations ment of a pre-qualification of misuse of highway funds.

Legislature Asked To Foot the Bill

It was a case of mistaken identity.

A five-page bill was introduced in the legislature Thursday that had only one objective—to change the word chiropodist to podiatrist. Both are foot doctors.

Health Minister Martin said the chiropodists have told him they were getting mixed up with chiropractors.

Union, Management Disagree

Fish Pact Sparks Split

Union and management took "stain" from their international rights to fish for salmon, halibut and herring on the high seas of the western Pacific.

But certain principles are necessary, one being that the fishery must be fully "exploited."

The United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union (Ind.) urged the blocking of what it termed the "giveaway" of herring fishing off the west coast, that the fisheries in of the Queen Charlotte Islands question did not meet the and halibut fishing in the eastern Bering Sea.

But the Fisheries Association of B.C., in a brief to the special committee Thursday on whether Canada should abide by provisions of an international fishing treaty.

The International Commission terms the "giveaway" of herring fishing off the west coast, that the fisheries in of the Queen Charlotte Islands question did not meet the and halibut fishing in the eastern Bering Sea.

This would allow Japan to fish for the herring and halibut.

AGREE TO ABSTAIN

The fisheries group pointed out that in the treaty between the U.S., Canada and Japan, the Japanese agreed to "ab-

Road Contracts

Changed Ads Puzzle

Who keeps popping surprises into the wording of highway tender advertisements?

Highways Minister Gagliardi told the legislature yesterday he and his officials are baffled by the mystery.

His department's policy in highway contracts is to obtain a five per cent performance bond.

But every one in awhile, an advertisement calling for tenders pops up calling for a 100 per cent performance bond.

"I have never been able to find out why," a puzzled Mr. Gagliardi told the House during questioning by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

If you don't know, you don't deserve to be minister," shot back Mr. Strachan.

Mr. Gagliardi said it didn't matter what the advertisements said, because the department's policy was to hold a five per cent bond until the contract "retention fund" reached a certain total, and then return it.

The retention fund, he explained, was built up by holding back a portion of each progress payment on the job.

Human Eyes For Science Bill's Goal

A bill was introduced in the legislature Thursday that would permit the use of human eyes in research.

Health Minister Martin introduced the amendment to the Cornea Transplant Act, which permits a person to sell his eyes for improving the sight of a living person or for research.

He said the bill was requested by the Canadian Institute for the Blind through the Canadian Medical Association.

Bonner Blocks Report

pany was paid $133,000 for work which was never performed.

Mr. Strachan said, "It is obvious the government doesn't want the full light of publicity to shine on the affair under investigation by the committee."

"It is evident further that the government is prepared to put any block it can in the way of the members of the committee in obtaining the fullest possible information on Project 819."

PROBED BY RCMP

Project 819 is the object of the RCMP report and the job for which L & M Logging Co.

was said to have received the $133,000 overpayment.

"I am rather shocked that the government would take this attitude," said the opposition leader.

CLAMS OVER

Ironically, Mr. Bonner used the same procedural gambit to block access to the RCMP report as Mr. Strachan used on Feb. 26 when he tried to block the attorney general's move to place the allegations in the hands of the committee. Mr. Strachan wanted a royal commission probe.

When a resolution is made from the floor the unanimous consent of the House is required before it can be voted upon.

Without that it must take its place at the end of a long list of other resolutions and can only be moved up on the order paper by a majority vote.

TOO LATE

Traditionally, unless the government changes its mind and brings the resolution forward by the weight of its legislative majority, it won't be dealt with until the last day of the session, too late to help the committee.

Sitters Sentenced

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Eight Negro college students were sentenced to three months in the workhouse and fined $50 each Wednesday for staging a sit-in demonstration at a downtown cafeteria last October.

A senior highways department official admitted Thursday he did not know how his engineers in the field estimated how much work was being done.

The admission came from E. C. Webster, director of provincial highways construction, under questioning by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

Mr. Strachan was exploiting Mr. Webster's statements Wednesday before the legislative investigation in charges against the highways department.

CAUGHT UP

Then, Mr. Webster said that field engineers deliberately made "conservative estimates" early in highways projects, then caught up to the actual amounts of material that had been moved later in the project.

This explained how one payment on the controversial Project 819 appeared to be $100,000 higher than preceded or followed one, he said.

Affidavits, which started the committee hearings, claimed the payments were padded by the amount.

But he told Mr. Strachan Thursday that "I have no knowledge" of whether the field estimates were 10, 15 or even 20 per cent under the actual work done.

It "could have been 20 per cent" on the controversial job, he said at one point.

OUTBURST

Mr. Strachan's point-by-point examination of cubby yard figures, in an apparent attempt to disprove the "pick up" explanation for the big payment, drew a sudden outburst from Victoria M.L.A. Waldo Skillings.

"On a point of order," he shouted, "I object most strenuously to this type of inquiry to a senior official."

Ruled out of order, he said, "Well, I want to at least express my opinion."

STILL QUIET

Despite Mr. Skillings' outburst, the hearing was the quietest so far.

An overflow crowd of spectators, with 80 to 100 seated and 10 standing, saw none of the verbal pyrotechnics, shouting and uproar of previous sessions.

The hearing will resume Monday at 9:30 a.m. During other testimony under Mr. Strachan's questioning, Mr. Webster admitted:

• He signed the estimate sheets "month after month" without knowing the percentage of "pick up" under a senior highway official, estimating later worked in and had to depend on his never met Mr. Lymburner, and engineers.

• He "understood what you're (Mr. Strachan) getting at."

• That no copy of another estimate sheet which he admitted he had destroyed a contractor $35,000 more was ever shown the federal government, which shared costs in this particular project.

• Such a change was not customary and he couldn't remember another specific one.

Earlier testimony was that the change had been made after the first contractor on the job, Burton Lymburner, had not been "happy" with the way one portion of the job had been estimated.

• He had not spoken to Highways Minister Gagliardi about the change, but had made it after discussions with a senior highway official, the chief engineer, he had after being "carried on for some years." But there were no written complaints.

• The resident engineer on the project, E. H. Barclay, told him he had destroyed a log book tally, a log book of an amount of underestimated material in the project.

• Destroying such records was "not" customary.

• No one had given him permission to destroy them.

• He had not spoken to

There had been complaints from contractors about the "pick up" methods and it had been abandoned in 1957 after being "carried on for some years." But there were no written complaints.

• Contractors are now paid up as far as possible each month for the work they have done.

• The resident engineer on the project, E. H. Barclay, told him he had destroyed a log book tally, a log book of an amount of underestimated material in the project.

• Destroying such records was "not" customary.

Exclusive Finger-Tip Start Reduces Starting Effort 94%

The 1963 Lawn-Boy is as easy to start as drawing a window blind. Lawn-Boy engineers have designed a new ignition system and gear start that reduces starting effort an incredible 94%. Finger-Tip start is just one of many ways the new Lawn-Boy gives you your money's worth—here are some others:

Lightweight. Lawn-Boy is easier to push than conventional steel power mowers because Lawn-Boy is made of magnesium, a metal lighter than steel. It is unusually tough and is rust-proof.

Unique Grasscatcher. Lawn-Boy's Chute & Bag Grasscatcher vacuum cleans your lawn as you cut, eliminates raking. It's clog-proof; holds a bushful;

detaches and empties in seconds.

2-speed Mowing. Lawn-Boy has 2-speed throttle control. High speed for tough cutting; low speed for quieter, more economical normal cutting.

New "D" Engine. Lawn-Boy's new engine has 3 horsepower working horsepower, not bench-rated horsepower. It will even cut through wet grass without stalling.

2-Year Warranty. 24 months against defective parts and workmanship.

Let your Lawn-Boy Dealer show you the new Lawn-Boy soon, see for yourself why it's Canada's best-selling power mower, 5 models to choose from.

Surgeon Says:

Sex, Salads, Scotch Just Thing for Health

TORONTO (CP)—Sex, salads, Dr. Kev said, "because it may and scotch whisky are just the give him a guilt complex, and thing for keeping healthy, the put him in the hands of a 1963 Canadian Health Forum psychiatrist, or he'll beat his wife to death."

Dr. James Kev, associate professor of surgery at the University of Toronto, said there were four S's to remember if said by walking to the kitchen you want to stave off heart trouble and peripheral blocked arteries.

NO SMOKING—BUT

The first "S" is smoking. Don't, said Dr. Kev. But have "plenty of salads, plenty of scotch and plenty of S's, if you can," he recommended.

"But if a man has smoked all his life and is over 50, I don't recommend that he stop."

Bonner to Open 'Showplace' Paint Centre

Ceremonies today will mark the opening of the ultramodern Junior League will dispense Vancouver Island headquarters free coffee and look after the of the General Paint Corporation of Canada.

Hon. Robert Bonner, B.C. minister of industrial development, trade and commerce, will open the company's new headquarters, at 830 Pandora near the B.C. Hydro building, in a ceremony at 4:30 p.m.

Officials of the company, with head office in Vancouver, say they picked the Pandora location for their spanking new building because, with such things as civic square development and the hydro building, the area should become a Victoria downtown showplace.

OPEN HOUSE
The public is invited to view the building at "open house" all day Saturday. Women of storage capacity will serve the 15 Victoria and area retailers who distribute General Paint products.

ISLAND CENTRE

The building also will serve as administrative nerve centre for the company's whole Vancouver Island operation.

The streamlined new building was designed by the Victoria architectural firm R. W. Siddall and Associates.

WEDGE WALL

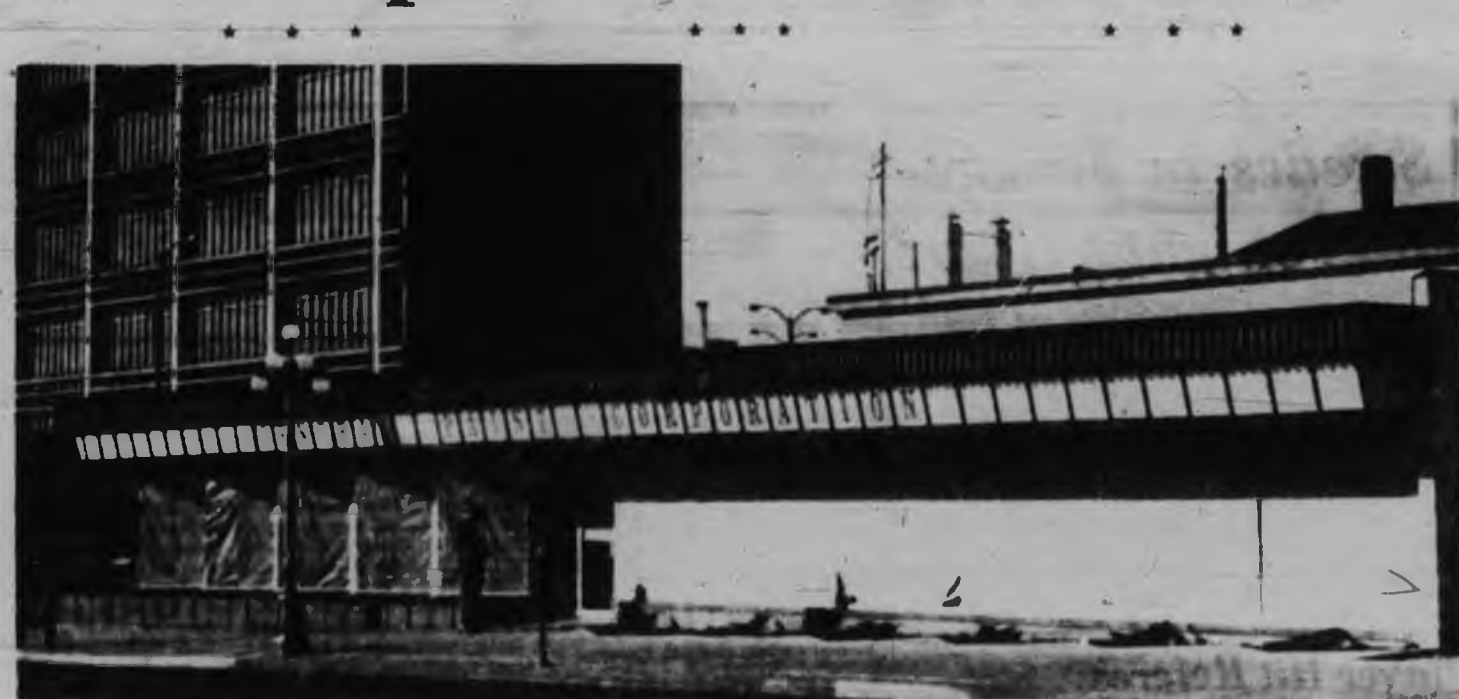

The inside rear wall of the showroom, clearly visible through the show windows, is built in a complementary series of wedges of wood sections treated with various General Paint products.

General Paint, as well as manufacturing and distributing its own products, is distributor for firms manufacturing all sorts of wall covering materials, including wall papers from many countries of the world.

REPUTATION HIGH

The reputation of the B.C. firm is so high that about 30 U.S. wall-covering firms pay General Paint for decorating consultant services.

On hand for today's opening ceremonies will be H. J. Mc Kay, company vice-president, P. T. Dahle, general sales manager, and Ted Coburn, manager of the General Paint Victoria operation.

Paint Centre

New Vancouver Island headquarters for General Paint Corporation opens today on Pandora, beside B.C. Hydro building as pictured. Modern structure includes showroom, office and storage facilities and will handle wholesale and retail sales.

Students Protest Execution of Reds

MOSCOW (Reuters) Some 1,500 demonstrators, including some Arab students, Thursday hurled stones, ice and bottles of ink at the Iraqi embassy here in protest against the execution of Communists in Iraq.

Five windows were broken and the embassy's walls were spattered with ink stains. Before the four-hour demonstration ended Russian passersby broke up a brawl between pro and anti-Nasser students.

Soviet police had to intervene to keep the demonstrators from reaching the embassy door.

Some of the students denounced Egyptian President Nasser and Iraq's new president Field Marshal Abdul Salam Mohammed Arif.

U.S. Staff Blamed

Pilotage Issue Blocked By Washington State

VANCOUVER (CP) — An attempt by Canadian and U.S. shippers to resolve a pilotage dispute in Puget Sound has been frustrated by the attitude of U.S. pilots and a ruling by the Washington state attorney general, a shipper said Thursday.

Keith Middleton, chairman of the pilots committee of the Vancouver chamber of shipping, was testifying before the federal royal commission on pilotage.

DISCONTINUE PRACTICE
Mr. Middleton said the dispute developed out of a decision by Canadian pilots in 1961 to discontinue a long established practice of accompanying ships past the international boundary to Washington state ports.

Under the practice both U.S. and Canadian pilots remained on board ships in the Puget Sound area. The pilots were paid an extra fee to cover the additional time spent aboard ship and their extra travelling expenses.

U.S. PILOTS' ACTION
However, the U.S. pilots took advantage of the Canadian pilots' action by taking ships up to a point just a few miles south of Vancouver.

Effect of the U.S. pilots' action, Mr. Middleton said, was to deprive the Canadian pilots of some 13 miles of pilotage.

CPR Conductor Killed by Train

SICAMOUS (CP) — A 61-year-old Canadian Pacific Railway conductor was killed here by a freight train.

Robert Harvey of Revelstoke was seen standing clear of the freight train switching in the yard five minutes before brakeman R. J. Hill spotted his body on the rails between two cars Tuesday.

Car Firm Wins Anti-Trust Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge acquitted General Motors and 56 co-defendants Thursday of anti-trust charges ending a trial that began last December.

The justice department brought the action in an attempt to prevent the auto manufacturer from allegedly trying to control prices at which dealers sell cars.

Swedes in Frenzy For Tonight's Game

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Canada and Sweden meet tonight in a "grudge" match which could settle the world ice hockey championships.

It has the usually phlegmatic Swedes in a frenzy.

"The Czechs ran away from the Canadians but our boys won't," Swedish manager Pelle Bergstrom told reporters.

"We are going to skate them into the ice."

All seats at the better-than-16,000-seat stadium have been sold out for weeks. Authorities refused to confirm reports that police reinforcements have been drafted should there be trouble between the Canadians and the fans.

Player Hit Referee

Magistrate Halts Soccer Career

Magistrate William Ostler yesterday forbade a city soccer player from playing league games anywhere in British Columbia for the next 18 months after finding him guilty of assaulting a referee in a game here Feb. 18.

Otto Schoner, a Victoria man who plays for Seattle Hungarians of the Pacific Coast Soccer League, was also fined $100 and placed on a $100 bond to keep the peace and be of good behavior for 18 months.

Schoner was charged with punching and kicking referee Ray Hulett during a PCSL match against Victoria United at Royal Athletic Park. He said that while arguing with Hulett over a call he grabbed the referee's arm, and when Hulett told him he was out of the game, "I got right out of control."

Liesmen Jack Adams and Pete Bishop both testified they had seen a punch land at the back of Hulett's head, and saw the accused kick the referee twice, once in the mouth and once in the stomach.

"This is most cowardly and unsportsmanlike conduct," Mr. Ostler told Schoner. "You must realize that after all soccer is only a game and not a vendetta against the other team as you seem to think."

Schoner's suspension could be longer than the 18 months assessed by Ostler. He is under indefinite suspension by the B.C. Soccer Commission, which is expected to sum him up to a hearing later this month. In many cases, players who strike officials have been banned for life.

Hornets Try Cap Season

Mount View Hornets try to write the crowning chapter to a fine comeback story to night when they meet Oak Bay High at 7:30 in the Howard Russell Cup high school rugby final at Royal Athletic Park.

Thirteen years ago, Hornets won the second division championship. Going into this season they hadn't won a game since, and this year they were campaigning in the first division. No one gave them a chance.

Alberni Reaches Tourney Semis

VANCOUVER (Special)—Alberni Chiefs reached the semi-finals of the B.C. high school basketball tournament here last night, but they were the only one of three Vancouver Island teams to survive as the tournament's power teams began to make their presence felt.

Chiefs, still hitting over 60 per cent from outside, beat West Vancouver, 60-53. Courtney Towhees, trampled in the third quarter, lost 36-18 to the Queen Elizabeth of Vancouver and favored Monmouth Educational Institute crushed Nanaimo Huskies, 78-29.

MEI and Queen Elizabeth meet tonight at 7:45 in one semi-final, and Chiefs go on to 9:15 against North Surrey, which upset highly rated Vancouver College, 60-50.

Nanaimo and Courtney play in a losers bracket game today. Loser is eliminated and winner goes on to play either West Vancouver or Vancouver College for fourth and seventh places.

Chiefs, who got 20 points from John Drew and 14 from Rick Bump, led 20-13 at the quarter and were in the clear from then on. Their win set up what could be one of the tournament's most interesting games as North Surrey comes into it with the same type of outside shooting offense.

Courtesy led 25-21 at the half, and got the first basket of the third quarter against Queen Elizabeth. But the winners threw up an air-tight zone, held 20 without another point in the quarter, and scored 20 themselves.

Huskies were simply out of their class against MEI, which used second-stringers most of the way.

STOCKHOLM (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters, showing their best form yet despite the loss of star forward Hugh McIntyre, romped to a 12-2 victory over Finland Thursday in the world hockey tournament and set the stage for their vital game with Sweden tonight.

Once-beaten Russia dealt Czechoslovakia's title chances a severe blow with an upset 3-1 win over the Czechs and the United States won its first game of the tournament, an 8-1 victory over West Germany.

All three games were fifth-round matches in the championship group A.

The unbeaten United States, who had an open date Thursday, have won all five starts and lead the top bracket with 10 points.

Trail Smoke Eaters went all out for goals Thursday and the result was their highest scoring game of the tournament. And their margin of victory was much greater than that of Russia and Sweden against the Finns.

Russia defeated Finland 6-1 and Sweden took a 4-0 victory from the little Soviet neighbor. Czechoslovakia plays Finland Friday.

The tournament ends Sunday in a point-to-point between two more countries, the winner will be decided on goal spread.

The goals against a team will be subtracted from the goals scored and the team with the highest goal difference will grab the title.

VIEWSON SPORT

By Red Smith

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Somehow the name of Satchel Paige came up and somebody asked whether that incredible old pappy guy was still pitching and Kerby Farrell said sure, he was touring with Goose Tatum, the old Harlem Globetrotter, playing ball wherever they lit.

At least, that's Casey's view of it. Back in minor league days, when Casey was hitting grounders for infield practice, and one of them skipped and nailed Kerby on the bridge of the nose. Ever since then, Kerby's profile has curved in where it ought to stick out, and this, Casey says, is why Kerby never became a great lover in the movies.

"Tell about how he does with his arm," Casey said. "Satch" Kerby said, "He won't let any trainer touch his arm. Greases it himself when he's through pitching, and then after everybody else has left the clubhouse he sits for an hour cooking the arm in water so hot you don't see how he can stand it."

Player-of-the-Year

When Farrell was managing Miami a few years ago, Paige was his star relief pitcher. In fact, Satchel was elected Miami's player-of-the-year.

"I'd never seen the guy before that year," Kerby said, "although of course I'd heard about him. I hardly knew him at all when I called him in, in the ninth inning with a runner on third base and nobody out. Well, he got rid of two hitters fast, and the third one hit a little nubber back between the mound and third base."

"Satch just kind of lounged over and picked up the ball, and I swear he was looking straight into our dugout behind third base. He never turned. He just whipped the ball like a stick under his left armpit and straight behind him, and he fired a strike into Herrera's mitt at first base."

"Another time he relieved for me and worked three innings on a Friday night. Generally when he was through pitching, I knew he'd go fishing for three-four days, but Sunday we were playing Dixie Walker's team, Toronto, and they were a rough lot. I said to him Saturday, 'Think you could go five innings for me tomorrow?'"

"Reckon I might," he told me. He called me MG, for manager.

"Well, Sunday in Miami was the hottest day I ever saw in my life. Satch had a uniform with the left sleeve cut so that arm was bare to the shoulder, but he had a big thick, woaden sweatshirt with the sleeve coming down here in his right wrist, and I guess that wrist would get pretty wet."

Kerby did not imply that Paige ever let the perspiration from his sleeve ooze down and moisten a pitch. He just mentioned it.

It's Awful Hot, MG

"Such was sitting there on the bench and it was pretty near game time and I said, 'Aint you going to warm up?'" He said, "It's awful hot, MG, and just sit there. So then it was game time and he said, 'What's catch?'" He said to the catcher, "Boy, just put your mitt where you want it and you better believe the ball will be in there," and he went out and started the game.

"Well, we went four innings and we got him one run in the fourth. By now his cheeks were sunk this far back in his head and I said, 'How about it?'" And he said, "I'll try another inning." Mike Golat and Rocky Nelson, they chased our outfielder clear back to the fence for a couple of shots, but Satch got through the fifth and we got him a second run in our half."

"He and I'll try one more," I said. "Look Satch, all I asked you for was five. I'll have relief ready any time. I think he threw about four pitches in the sixth and they hit him in the air and he was out of the inning. We got him another run in our half."

I watched him out of there fast. Hell, MG, he told me, "I'm home from now, with them two runs."

You know, he went on and finished, and that Rocky Nelson, he was a hell of a hitter in Triple-A, on his last time up in the ninth he was trying to bunt."

Finger Fine

Koufax Stops Yanks

Los Angeles Dodgers beat New York Yankees 5-2 Thursday in the first meeting of the teams favored to clash in baseball's world series in October.

Sandy Koufax's pitching and two homers by Tommy Davis combined to send the champion Yankees down to their fifth defeat in six spring exhibition games.

Koufax, whose injury to the index finger of his pitching hand dealt the Dodgers' pennant hopes a severe blow last season, gave up three hits and one unearned run in the five innings he pitched at Ford Field.

Tommy Davis, who played his way back to the top of the batting order after a season in the minors, hit two homers and drove in three runs.

Coach Bobby Krumm, beaming after the Canadian victory, told reporters:

"Now we are playing the kind of hockey we should have been playing all along. We're really rolling along and I don't think anything can stop us now."

SOME HURT

"It shows we play best with our backs to the wall," Krumm said in referring to the loss of McIntyre for the rest of the tournament and the fact that goalie Seth Martin strained his back before the game and forward Jack McLeod had a high fever.

All Potter, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association who was watching from the stands, was all smiles. He said, "What a game. Now we are showing what we can really do."

GOOD WARMUP

Potter said the win was a fine warmup for the game with Sweden. Canada finishes against Russia Sunday.

Krumm singled out the Smokie defence for special praise. The most improved player in the lineup was Harry Smith, the big defenceman who really hit his stride for the first time in the tournament. Krumm said Smith played an excellent game and he also praised the work of George Ferguson and Ted Maki, two other defencemen.

Here's How It's Done

Three worthwhile hours Monday morning in Saanich Inlet between Stone House and Misery Bay resulted in eight salmon between 21 and 13 pounds for J. L. Holmes, left, and Saskatoon visitor D. Koyie. Guide Jim Gilbert had them outfitted with 250 feet of line, on planer, dragging Kripped Minnow.

Hall Nears Vezina; Howe Widens Lead

Chicago goalkeeper Glenn Hall just about clinched the Vezina Trophy and Detroit Gordie Howe gained another point towards a sixth scoring championship last night as Chicago Black Hawks took over first place in the National Hockey League.

Hawks rose to the top when Hall shut out Boston Bruins, 4-0, and Toronto Maple Leafs had to settle for a 3-1 tie against Canadiens in Montreal.

Hall now has a seven-goal margin over Montreal's Jacques Plante for the trophy which goes to the goaltender who has played the most games for the club which has allowed the least goals.

In last night's other game, Detroit Red Wings trimmed New York Rangers, 9-4, with Howe getting two assists to boost his point total to 78. Wings held runner-up Andy Bathgate to a single assist.

Plenty of Football Though United Away

Victoria United is away, but the weekend offers plenty of choice for city soccer fans.

Headliner is the Vancouver Island Province final between George and Duncan Saturday at Royal Athletic Park at 2 p.m. George reached it by beating Victoria Wests, 3-2, in overtime.

Earl Ingarfield led the Rangers with his 18th and 19th goals.

Two Victoria and District Soccer League games are scheduled Sunday, and starting time for both has been switched from 2 p.m. to 2:30.

Heaneys meet Canadian Souths at Heywood Park, and Rockies meet Wesps at Central.

There's good reason for the time change.

Four in the Scottish-Heaneys game at Heywood, Canadian Souths of Division V play Seattle in a quarter-final game as they battle for a berth in the Tournament of Champions.

The young Scots have quite a record. In 28 league cup and exhibition games they have won 28 and tied one.

Game starts at 1 p.m.

Stars Lose
To Nationals

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—Montreal Huskies and Lethbridge Nationals scored victories as the Canadian senior men's basketball championship tournament got under way here Thursday night.

Huskies opened the four team round robin competition, which will also decide the makeup of Canada's team for the Pan-American Games and world championships in Brazil this spring, by trouncing Winnipeg Buffaloes, 109-72.

Nationals, originally designated to represent Canada at the Pan-American Games and the world championships, swept past the British Columbia All-Stars 82-54.

Saanich Inlet is giving up some fairly good spring and jackpot fishing at pretty well all the favorite spots and bluebacking has been fair to good anywhere in Finlayson Arm and again in the McKenzie Bay, Boulder, Whittaker Point run.

Tod Inlet fishing has fallen off, but Coles Bay has been giving up some jacks. Indian Bay some springs up to 13 pounds, the Boulder area gave up an 18-pounder Sunday on plug and eight ounces and there were several limits of blues in the Whittaker Point-McKenzie Bay area on spinners and worms, small spoons and bucktails.

Spillings in the four to seven-pound class are being taken very deep in Mincey Bay-Chesterfield Rock waters.

Henry and Ida Rollins were among those who limited in blues on bucktail fly in the Narrows of Finlayson Arm Wednesday. Chris Hosketh has been hitting them regularly. Fishing the Finlayson Arm waters with a party this week, Jim Gilbert landed 19 fish, only two of which were blues. He said the fish were taking almost anything and at a great variety of depths.

There is little doubt that it is great fun to fish the small blues with a bucktail fly on the surface, but it does seem a shame to take too many when there are springs to catch, because the small blues being taken now will be big coho next season.

Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association has set its 1963 derby dates.

The big new Handicapped Children's Derby will be July 27 and 28 with a car as consolation prize and a carton bowl as main fishing prize. "Booby waters" containing scrip for money, redeemable at weigh-in stations, will be floated around the Inlet fishing grounds.

First derby of the season will be the June 22 and 23 Saanich Inlet open derby. The junior derby has been scheduled for Aug. 25 and the big open coho derby for Sept. 21 and 22. Executive derby will be Sept. 15.

Of course by now everyone has heard about the VSIAA membership draw for a trip to Hawaii.

There are plenty of blues off Oak Bay waters, at least one big spring was landed at Pedder Bay at the weekend. Beechey Head gave up a big spring Wednesday and there has been some excellent sea-run cutthroat trout fishing in Sooke Harbor on the river side of Jackson's Spit. There are a few springs in San Juan Bay.

Ed Mould clicked for blues in Saturn Narrows between Burial Island and Separation Point, and Gordon Evans has been hitting springs in the same waters. The odd spring is coming from Maple Bay, but Crofton has been off. Nanaimo waters are worthwhile and springs are starting to show in Qualicum waters.

On the freshwater scene interest is switching from steelhead to trout, but there are still steelies about, although rivers have been too low for the best steelheading and the weather has turned a little cold for the best lake trout fishing. But H. Mundy found the west arm of Shawanigan Lake hot for trout on Wednesday.

In the Port Renfrew area trout fishing has been good in Fairy Lake, poor in the slough, and lots of trout have been showing in Lizard Lake, although they are hard to catch. Steelheading has been poor because of low water in the rivers. Quamichan, Douglas, Fuller and Wolf Lakes are all producing trout.

Cowichan River is giving up some steelies from lower reaches, a few trout in Riverbottom area and some good trout fishing in the upper reaches with white grubs as bait.

Mary and Bill Ravenhill report the trout fishing picking up in Cowichan Lake and Harry and Grace Burrows got eight nice trout Sunday, biggest 4.7 pounds, on silver Flatfish and Tom Mack spoons.

Alberni area fishing hasn't been good, but the Elsie Lake area is starting to pick up for lake fishermen. Spout and the bigger lakes fell off with cooler weather. The Qualicum Rivers are producing some steelies and cutthroats to the fishermen who know how to get them with early mornings the best time.

Puntledge is good for cutthroat, but fallen off for steelies. The Campbell Lakes have fallen off and the smaller lakes are not producing too well yet.

The Island Pointer Club will stage its annual CKC Synchronized field trial Saturday and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day, at Judges Farm, Burnside Road and Helmcken. A variety of pointing dogs will take part, with puppies running on pigeons and derby and shooting dogs running on pheasants. Refreshments will be served and the public is welcome to turn out and watch.

Monday night's Fish and Game Club meeting at 8 p.m. at Goldstream Clubhouse promises to be an interesting one. Regional game biologist Don Macaughan will be on hand to tell about the deer shooting outlook and there will also be a film about bow and arrow hunting, which will feature a sequence about shooting a grizzly bear with bow and arrow and another about fishing with bow and arrow.

Perfect 'Eight' Posted

PORT ALBERNI — First eight-ender at the new Alberni Valley Curling Club was scored Wednesday night in the men's club draw by a rink skipped by veteran member Gunnar Molander.

It came on the third end against a rink skipped by Bill Barr, which was leading 14, at the time. Barr was faced with six opposing rocks but had fourth rock in the house when he went to shoot his last rock. He cut things a bit fine and raised one of Molander's rocks into the rings, and Molander did the rest by passing out Barr's only rock and sticking for his maximum count. He went on to win the game, 18-10.

The perfect end came only a few hours after Rene Bernier's rink, playing in the ladies' afternoon league, had scored a seven-end.

Curling with Molander were Ken Nicol, Harold Thomas and Harvey Dion.

Three Crowns on One Fight Card

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Forty-five rounds of championship boxing are on the program in Saturday night's triple-crown show in Dodger Stadium but a knockout in any or all three of the fights is entirely possible. Blows will be flying in all directions as:

Champion Emile Griffith of New York faces Cuban-born Luis Rodriguez of Miami, Fla., for the welterweight title.

Champion Davey Moore of Columbus, Ohio, tangles with another Cuban expatriate, Sugar Ramos of Mexico City, for the featherweight title.

And Raymundo (Battling) Torres of Reynosa, Mex., and Roberto Cruz of Quezon City, The Philippines, battle for the vacant world junior welterweight title.

Rodriguez, who celebrated his 24th birthday Thursday, predicted a knockout in each fight and named the winners. "Myself, Ramos and Torres," Athletic Commission disclosed. He has scored 21 knockouts in 52 fights in the event of a knockdown but is not known as a hard puncher. He has never been knocked out.

The lighter hitters get a break. Incidentally, Secretary Clayton Frye of the California Athletic Commission disclosed that the mandatory eight-count in the event of a knockdown will be in effect.

The 24-year-old Griffith can punch a man out, as he's proven a dozen times, including twice over the late, ill-fated welterweight Benny (Kid) Paret, from whom he won, lost and regained the championship.

NOW ON DISPLAY AT YOUR MERC DEALER...

370.8 HORSES

Add 'em up... 100, 85, 65, 50, 35, 20, 9.8 and 6 horsepower. That's the power range of the new 1963 Mercury outboards.

Your Merc dealer has the widest selection of outboard horsepower available. He has the world's most powerful outboard, the Merc 1000, 100 hp. He has the world's lightest 9.8 hp fishing motor. The Merc 110 weighs only 55 pounds... as light as other 51 hp outboards.

See the Merc 850, 85 horsepower. It's a dockmate to the Merc 1000... the only outboard that surpasses it in power.

The new 1963 Mercury includes a 65 hp, 4-cylinder outboard... the Merc 650; and a new 35 hp, twin-cylinder outboard... the Merc 350. Like the Merc 1000 and 850, they have Power-Dome combustion chambers that squish the fuel-air mixture to control combustion for maximum efficiency.

Merc's new 50 hp Merc 500 is the most power that you can get for the money and there are three new fishing motors... Merc 200, 20 hp, Merc 110, 9.8 hp, and its little brother, the Merc 60, 6 hp.

These add up to a lot of horses... 190 more than you can find in the power range of any other outboard manufacturer. All the new Mercs have full gearshift and single-lever control.

Only Merc dealers have them. See yours today. Now made in Canada at new low prices.

Nuclear Debate Flares

The question of nuclear arms for Canada brought tears to the flaring point at a Liberal-Conservative debate last night.

But voters also wanted to know whether they will be faced with another federal election a few months from now.

About 75 people attended the Esquimalt-Saanich debate between Liberal candidate Robert Ostler and Conservative George Chatterton in St. George the Martyr Church Hall.

Mr. Ostler contended that Canada has not lived up to her NATO commitments for providing her military forces with nuclear weapons, and that the weapons are needed.

Mr. Chatterton maintained that Canada agreed only to operate carriers capable of delivering nuclear weapons, and that no nuclear weapons were to be used by her short of an all-out war.

Late in the meeting, someone asked the candidates their positions if a government without a working majority is elected.

"Some effort would have to be made toward coalition," said Mr. Ostler.

If the Liberals get in office without a working majority, he said, it would be "up to the Liberal party to bring forth a type of legislation which would appeal to opposition parties."

Mr. Chatterton said, "It is possible that for many years to come there will be government by minority governments," but in time, "the minor parties will disappear."

"To me, the government puts up legislation not such that the opposition will approve—the government puts up legislation that it feels essential to the interests of Canada."

Rallies Today

VICTORIA

Liberal — Defence critic Charles Drury will speak in support of candidates David Groos and Robert Ostler, Central Junior High School, 8 p.m.

ESQUIMALT-SAANICH

Progressive Conservative — Candidate George Chatterton will speak in Cobble Hill Hall, 8 p.m.

Centenarian Signs for NDP

When blind New Democratic Party candidate John Windsor filed his nomination papers yesterday, with the assistance of his seeing-eye girl, Susan Mitchell, he also had the support of a 100-year-old man.

Among the signatures on his nomination paper was that of William Rowles, 100, of 723 open house.

Social candidate Edward Lum, who is also contesting the Esquimalt-Saanich riding and who has filed his nomination papers, was busy shaking hands at his campaign headquarters, where there was an open house.

Mrs. George Chatterton has returned from Ottawa and is out knocking on doors with her husband, who is seeking re-election as the Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Esquimalt-Saanich.

out from what organizations senate members can be elected.

For Victoria University the changes are a complete switch from the current principal and 11 councillors.

The board of governors, for example, will consist of:

Eleven members; the chancellor, the president, three members of the senate, and six members appointed by the government cabinet.

Elsewhere in the bill, the B.C. School Trustees Association has its representation on the joint board of teacher education boosted from one to two members.

Referring specifically to Victoria University, the bill says Mr. Clearhue "continues as chairman of the council of the college until the new legislation comes into force, then becomes chancellor until his successor is elected."

That election, for chancellor and senate members, must be held within six months of the bill coming into force.

First election of one member of each faculty, by faculty members to the senate is scheduled in April.

TO APPOINT CHAIRMAN

The minister will appoint the chairman and enough members to equal the number of university appointees.

The academic board is to be composed of two members appointed by the senate of each university and three by the cabinet, to hold office for three years and be eligible for reappointment.

Provisions are added to allow it such officers and staff as it may need, with expenses borne by the universities.

Its job is to keep in review the academic standards and orderly academic development of the universities and colleges.

It is also to report on "any matters respecting academic standards and development in higher education" as the minister of education may require.

One change in the general provisions of the legislation is that the chancellor of any university is no longer automatically the chairman of the board of governors.

ELIMINATE OWN

Each board will now elect its own, who may be the chancellor.

Changes in senate regulations make them "more flexible" with the university given a range from six to 15 elected members so that the full senate can be as large as desired.

There is no attempt to spell out from what organizations senate members can be elected.

TO APPOINT BOARD

The cabinet will appoint the first chancellor and board for the Simon Fraser University so they can go ahead with site selection, building planning and other preparations.

All will be done under government approval until such time as an election of members can be held.

Mr. Peterson commented that while the July 1 date perhaps appeared distant, it was little enough time "to get the machinery" of the new legislation and universities going.

UBC president Dr. John Macdonald told the Colonist last night he is enthusiastic about the plan for Victoria University to achieve full university status July 1.

"Many groups in Victoria have been concerned with this, and I think the concept outlined in the (Macdonald) report helped," he said.

J. B. Clearhue, who will be the university's first chancellor "has been dedicated to Victoria University for a long time. Citizens need this kind of dedication," Dr. Macdonald said.

Raise 'Em Indoors

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

In yesterday's column I pointed out it was quite possible to sow the seeds of the new Pfitzer marigolds outdoors, just as you would lettuce or sweet peas. These seeds, the first of the Colonist's 1963 free seed offers, are remarkably hardy and fast-growing, and I would say your chances of raising some of these attractive flowers are pretty good from seeds sown outdoors in the manner outlined yesterday.

However, there are a lot of hazards to an outdoor sowing. The tiny seedlings could be beaten into the ground by driving rain or storms. Cutworms, slugs or woodlice might make a meal of them. That stumblebum of a husband for wiser may pull them up, thinking them weeds.

These are the chances we take with any outdoor sowing and, when seeds are plentiful, we allow for the inevitable proportion of losses by sowing a little more freely. However, the seeds of our German marigolds are scarce and in short supply and, when our present bagful has been distributed, we can't get any more until the 1963 European seed crop is harvested this fall. Because of this, it would be prudent to start at least a few of your precious seeds indoors where they can be given a little protection.

You'll need some sort of container and an ordinary clay flowerpot is about as good as anything you could use although many a good batch of plants has been raised in an old cigar box or in cut-down milk cartons. If your flower pot is old, give it a good scrubbing in hot soapy water. If it is newly purchased, soak it in water for an hour. The pores of a new clay pot are very thirsty, and unless soaked, they will pull all the moisture out of the soil.

Next, put an inch of clean gravel in the bottom of the pot for drainage. Professional gardeners often use bits of broken flower pot for this purpose but gravel is easier to come by. Over the gravel, place a pad of four or five thicknesses of paper towel or paper handkerchiefs. This is to act as a filter, allowing excess water to percolate through but holding back the grains of soil.

Now fill your pot with sifted soil, preferably of a rather sandy nature. Purchased potting soil may be used without sifting. Consolidate the soil as you fill the pot by pressing down firmly with the fingers, finishing up about an inch below the rim of the pot.

Now water thoroughly but very slowly with boiling water right out of the kettle. Use enough for the excess to start coming out the drainage hole in the bottom of the pot, then set aside to drain.

Next, sow your seeds, spacing them individually a good inch apart each way, dropping each one on the wet surface of the soil and making no attempt to cover them until all are in position. Then cover with a half-inch layer of peat moss, twiddling the moss between your fingers so it sifts down lightly and evenly over the seeds.

I think it pays to cover the pot in order to maintain a steamy atmosphere at the surface of the soil and, for this purpose, I cut a square of polythene from a plastic bag and stretch it over the top of the pot, holding it in place with an elastic band. The pot can go to a warm and sunny window; don't worry if there is a lot of condensation on the plastic covering--this is to be expected.

Keep a careful eye on your pot of seeds and, as soon as the first seedling breaks surface, remove the plastic covering and give plenty of air. Grow in full sunshine at all stages of growth.

JOHN CROSBY Has Illusions Shattered

French Are Just Like Us!

PARIS — I love the French. I couldn't understand why Americans didn't until I discovered they somehow had the French confused with de Gaulle.

"De Gaulle?" said a French friend, "is not at all French. In fact, now that he's admitted that he had a German grandfather, he's confirmed what I've always suspected: his real name isn't de Gaulle at all. He loves the Germans! Did you ever see a true Frenchman who loved Germans?"

"Well, the French must love de Gaulle," I said. "They keep voting out in all these referendums."

"What alternative have we?" said the Frenchman. "He says vote out or it's chaos. So we vote out and then go take another shot at him. What other world leader has had eight attempts made on his life?"

"Who do you suppose made all those assassination attempts--Englishmen? Angry

'De Gaulle Must Die Before He Finds Out'

Belgians? No, they were Frenchmen, all of them. "Tell me," I asked, "what is a Frenchman really like?"

"The typical Frenchman?" said the Frenchman. "Well, let's see now. He lives in the suburbs. His wife drives him to the train and he reads his newspaper coming to work. If he's a businessman, he frequently has a sandwich at his desk at 12:30 or 1 o'clock."

"But the French lunch from one to three to four," I said, "in the little bistros."

"That's strictly for tourists," said my friend. "And the little bistros are rapidly being replaced by snack bars."

"Snack bars," I said. "How do you say that in French?"

"Snack bars is a French word," said the Frenchman. "They're full of teenagers that's another French word--teenagers eating hamburgers, another French word and drinking Coca Cola (another French word)."

"The typically French family now frequently has a working wife and she takes an active part in making the decision as to where the family will spend its vacation. The husband frequently helps his wife in washing the dishes. Then we have that whole new race--the teenagers who have their own curious customs, language and dress. These teenagers dance the twist and worship rock 'n' roll singers."

"Are you sure you're talking about the French?"

"Who else acts like this?" said the Frenchman. "The French teenagers have more money to spend than any other teen-agers in history and they spend it on records, magazines, and their ultimate desire is an automobile, failing that a motorcycle."

"How about the workers? They're Communists, no?" I asked.

"Communists? Not in years. Now the workers think only of their security. They are all capitalists--the laboring men. They own their own cars, vacuum cleaners, washing machines."

"And in the evening?" I asked. "He sits in the sidewalk cafes and talks politics?"

"Good heavens, no! He sits in front of the television set--maybe drinking beer. This must all sound very strange to you."

"It must sound even stranger to de Gaulle," I said. "Does he know?"

"No," said the Frenchman. "That's why we keep trying to kill him. We think he would be happier if he never found out what the French are really like."

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Maureen O'Hara is in a fight to the finish with the insurance companies. "Because I'm an actress they charge me double insurance for my jewels. I've now cancelled my insurance and keep my jewels in a vault at the bank and they'll stay there until the premiums come down." Maureen has a million dollar collection.

Bin's eldest, Gary Crosby, is up for a role in Something's Got to Give, with Doris Day.

Cleopatra could very well turn into a Caesar salad, with Rex Harrison stealing the picture as the Roman dictator.

Keir Dullea and Shirley Knight are looking for a film to make together. They liked their teaming in The Broken Year. Keir, who made such a hit in David and Lisa, has a film comedy coming up. Don't Talk to Me, I'm in Training. Today's titles are on the long side, aren't they?

A very good description of Peter O'Toole in Lawless of Arabia "an unresolved man" even as you and I are unresolved. Because of his acclaim in this picture, Peter is getting film offers from all over. He is definite for Becket, and Lord Jim.

Producer Sam Spiegel's next is The Chase, and for the first time in many years, Sam will be making a picture in the U.S. The movie, with O'Toole, for next year, will be filmed in Texas and Hollywood. A co-starring role has been offered to Gregory Peck.

Hedy Lamarr is a busy girl. In addition to getting married for the sixth time, Hedy, an abstract painter, is having her first professional exhibition.

No wonder Shelley Winters slimmed down to a size 10. Producer Hal Wallis promised she could keep the pretty clothes she wears in her current picture for him, if she could get into them! "It was worth all the starving," Shelley told me ecstatically.

Cesare Danova writes from Rome that he was doing a little sightseeing in the country, and saw the following inscription on a headstone in a Roman cemetery: "Here lies an atheist all dressed up and no place to go."

Frank Capra has been in Spain where the veteran director has been setting up locations for his Circus picture to star John Wayne, David Niven and Claudia Cardinale. Niven will be going straight into Circus from King of the Mountain with Marlon Brando.

Little Mary Badham, nominated for an Oscar for her amazing first film performance in To Kill a Mockingbird, wrote the Universal executives to be sure she has a seat down front at the awards: "So I can see all the movie stars."

'Exciting' Future For University

Victoria University is facing its most exciting period in history, UBC president Dr. John Macdonald said Thursday night.

It now can determine its own standards and set its own goals and is able to establish a program in arts and science of a very high calibre, he said.

However, "the crisis in education is just beginning in Canada," he told an audience of 80 in the Victoria University auditorium at a meeting sponsored by the Greater Victoria Current Affairs Council.

"Though human resources in every sense are our most important asset, Canada has not yet fully awakened to the fact," Dr. Macdonald said in what he called "a blunt statement."

In a 55-minute speech, the UBC president outlined the needs in the next 10 years in education for B.C. and Canada.

Education is the major key to progress of mankind, but in the past "we were not able to convince the government to support education,"

● Canadians have a vital role to play.

● More is needed for facilities in higher education "than we have been able to accomplish since confederation."

● Canada must share in the technological advances.

● The individual must be so educated that he can live in mental ease in this age.

● Students must be educated to the limit of their capacity by the best of institutions.

Dr. Macdonald branded as "fallacy" statements made to the effect there is an "export of talent" to the U.S. "This is only a partial truth. There is really a favorable balance."

"We are, for example, gaining engineers from areas outside Canada," he said. "Migration and exchange of talent is important and useful."

There are 17,000 students in B.C. now, and by 1970 there will be 40,000, perhaps even more, he said.

Canada has only 25 per cent skilled laborers; in the U.S. there are 50 per cent, Canada has six per cent professional men, the U.S. has 18 per cent, Dr. Macdonald said.

"Of 100 Grade 2 students in B.C., nine will go to university, six will graduate," he added, quoting figures from U.S. universities which have many times that percentage of graduates.

HEALTHY PROBLEM

But this problem is a healthy problem, he said.

He called for a widely diversified academic program and asked for a more careful selection of students who enter university.

"Status reason is not a good reason for going to university. A good reason is talent," Dr. Macdonald said.

Competition in academic institutions is healthy, he said, referring to the full status of Victoria University by July 1.

He said he personally looks forward to this competition.

LOW BUDGET

Switching over to cost factors, Dr. Macdonald said UBC operates with a budget of $1,207 a student a year while the Canadian average is $1,896.

"I am not impressed when I hear we cannot afford more funds for higher education," he said.

In another comparison, he quoted the per capita cost of universities in B.C. as $3.91, as opposed to $7.08 in Alberta, $17.83 in Washington and $18.57 in Oregon.

If the 1970 goal for increase of students in B.C. is achieved, it will mean $17.67 per capita cost on a total budget of $85,000,000, he said.

Also by 1970 he foresaw a maximum enrolment of 17,000 undergraduate students and an increase to 15 per cent in graduate classes from six per cent now.

REALISTIC GOAL

"This is not an unreasonable goal. It's realistic," Dr. Macdonald said.

The speaker was introduced by chairman of the meeting, The Daily Colonist editor-in-chief R. J. Bower, who said Dr. Macdonald "is anything but an ordinary fellow—he has written more than 50 publications and reflects a wide range of mind and interest."

Mr. Bower called the Macdonald report on higher education in B.C. "comprehensive, concise and crystal clear."

Young Secreds Map Plans

Social Credit candidates Millard Mooney and Edward Lum met with about 25 young Secreds at the home of MLA Herbert Bruch last night to map out the young people's activity in the coming election.

The young Secreds decided they will provide baby-sitting service, transportation and messenger service, and help out with the entertainment when Secred national leader Robert Thompson comes to town March 26.

Sub-Arctic Official Hunts for Voters

By GEORGE TRAJKOR

GOOSE BAY (CP)—Weaker men would probably weep if they had to carry out the election assignment of Magistrate Terry Corbett along the forbidding Labrador coast.

By plane, by dogteam and on foot, Mr. Corbett travels through the sub-Arctic, making sure facilities will be available for people to exercise their franchise in the federal election April 8.

"I sometimes think," he sighed resignedly as he slogged along beside a dog-team "that we are carrying democracy to the extreme here."

WHERE ARE THEY?

In the sprawling riding, enumeration is often not just a matter of finding out who the eligible voters are but where they are, and where they will be by election time. They have a habit of moving from winter to summer residences.

"Where are the people of Triangle?" Mr. Corbett asked when he dropped into Square Islands to deliver enumerators material.

"I've been trying to find them myself," said the postal agent there. "The mail is piling up."

DEPUTY'S DEPUTY

"Oh, well," said Mr. Corbett. The people were located, most of them in Partridge Bay and Square Islands, and a polling station was duly set up.

Mr. Corbett's riding is Grand Falls - White Bay - Labrador, a constituency so complicated that even the deputy returning officer—Joseph Yelman of Grand Falls, Nfld.—has a deputy: Mr. Corbett.

Labrador had a potential vote of 8,546 in the 1962 federal election.

Sex Slaying Halts Ballet Rehearsal

VIENNA (AP)—The Vienna State Opera has cancelled all ballet rehearsals until next Monday because the dancers were so shocked by the sex slaying of a 12-year-old ballet student in a shower room of the opera house.

A spokesman for the opera management said he hoped nerves would have calmed by then and ballet work could be resumed.

Atlas

The psychiatrists studied 43 cases in which men who were living apparently satisfactory lives suddenly and unexpectedly committed murder.

In one case, a man who had never shown any evidence of being violent suddenly mutilated and killed his wife because she threatened to leave him.

A laborer who was doing an effective job beat his employer to death with a metal club during an argument over his salary.

The study, entitled, "The Sudden Murderer," was reported by Dr. Joseph W. Lambert of Winnipeg, Dr. Nathan Blackman, St. Louis, and James M. A. Weiss, Columbia, Mo.

Characteristically, they said, the sudden murderer is a man who came from a close-knit family in which the mother was a domineering, over-protective figure.

The psychiatrists said that in the majority of the cases in their study, the killer suffered from constant conflict between inner feelings of inadequacy and conscious needs to succeed.

They added that many persons with similar behavioral patterns never become killers, and that it may be because of some intervening socializing factor such as satisfactory interpersonal experience with church groups, employer, friend or wife.

Young Pair From UBC In Recital

Two young artists, clarinetist Patricia Mallow and pianist Kenneth Johnson, appear in recital this evening at 8 p.m. at North Saanich Secondary School.

Both are students with the UBC Faculty of Music. Miss Mallow is a native of Regina, Mr. Johnson is from Sidney and is paying a visit to his own former high school.

Miss Mallow offers the Mozart Clarinet Concerto (Op.107) and joins Mr. Johnson for Dunhill's Fantasy Suite (Op.91).

Mr. Johnson will be heard with Rach's first Partita, a Mozart Fantasia and a Sonata by Ravel.

The concert is sponsored by the North Saanich P.T.A. in aid of the Scholarship Fund and admission is $1.

K for Camels

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet, untapped resources all over the Soviet Union.

"During my visit to Turkmenia last year," he said, "I saw that we had an incorrect attitude toward such a thing as raising camels."

"This is a valuable animal, producing milk, leather and excellent wool," he said, adding that during the milking period a one-humped camel can produce about 4,000 quarts of milk.

Khrushchev said bureaucracy bogs down farm production. He attacked those farmers who expect to produce more milk simply by posting resolutions and directives.

"You do not understand, comrades, that cows do not read your directives and resolutions," the premier told farm experts.

"Give me fodder and I'll give you milk," is the cow's plea, he said.

Khrushchev said there are

Who Becomes Prosecutor?

A five-man committee of the Victoria Bar Association yesterday pronounced the city's jail facilities outmoded and expressed concern over the methods adopted by the city in closing a city prosecutor.

The pronouncement came after the criminal justice committee of the association had been taken on a tour of the jail by Chief Const. John Blackstock.

Members of the committee are David Hummel, Brian Roberts, Ian

Stewart, Rodney Taylor and Michael Warren.

In a joint statement they said the present facilities were definitely outmoded and they would pass along their findings in detail to the Victoria Bar Association which would, in turn, make recommendations to the city and investigator George Archer.

They said they found the chief most cooperative and would like to thank him for an informative tour.

Their objection to the mode of obtaining a new city prosecutor is in putting the job out for tender.

Jail Outmoded

"This does not establish a position which calls for any particular qualifications," Mr. Hummel said. "The city is not buying so many sacks of potatoes. With the growth of the area it is most important to get a good prosecutor at this time."

Other members of the committee agreed and all pointed out that none of the group was interested in applying for the position.

"We will also raise this issue with the Bar Association and with Mr. Archer," Mr. Taylor said.

Dogfish Edible

A Victoria wholesale fish plant worked last night to fillet a bonload of dogfish for a Norwegian-born scientist who thinks he has found a way to make the deep-sea meat palatable.

Oddo Igde believes that with chemical treatment the fish can be made a delicious and wholesome delicacy. C. A. Torrville, 100 Yates, kept his plant open last night to have the load of dogfish filleted.

Greater Victoria Plan

Council Debates Sewage Merger

By IAN STREET

Proposed formation of an amalgamated sewage disposal system for Greater Victoria cropped up from two angles at Thursday's city council meeting.

Ald. Austin Curtis suggested this course of action during discussion of a scheme which would cost the city $140,000 to correct what he termed "just a local situation" at Clover Point.

He said this would "go a long way" toward the cost of establishing a sewage disposal plant for "the whole Greater Victoria area."

PLAN DISCUSSED

Ald. Lily Wilson, city representative on the Greater Victoria metro health board, said a similar proposal for amalgamation of sewage services was discussed during the closed board meeting Tuesday.

It will come up for further discussion when the metro health board meets again next week, she said.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgell strongly opposed participation by Victoria in any intermunicipal sewage disposal scheme.

PAY FOR SAANICH

"If we get involved in a commission we're going to end up having Victoria taxpayers paying the shot for new sewers needed in Saanich," he said.

Ald. Edgell added, however, that the city should act to correct its own pollution problems now so that it can oppose any move on the part of other municipalities to dump effluent into places like the Gorge waterway.

City council agreed to place $25,000 in estimates for construction of new shore installations at Clover Point preparatory to extension of the existing sewer outfall to a point 1,000 feet offshore. Estimated cost of the whole job is $140,000.

ANNUAL PAYMENTS

Mayor R. B. Wilson, who originally suggested that council establish a fund to carry out the Clover Point project, said he would prefer the annual contributions to average $30,000. This would permit completion of the job inside three years.

Ald. J. L. W. McLean said he wanted to be convinced that extension of existing sewer outfalls on Victoria's waterfront offered the correct long-term solution to the pollution problem.

Ald. McLean said he favored the Clover Point scheme if it was the solution, but added amalgamating all Greater Victoria sewage "would just add to our troubles."

Pipeline Men In City

Some 200 pipeline contractors invaded Victoria Thursday to register for the annual convention of their association to be held in the Empress Hotel today and Saturday.

While the convention will end for delegates with a reception at 6 p.m. Saturday in the Crystal Ballroom, officials of the association will hold meetings Sunday and Monday morning.

Official opening of the convention will come at 9:30 a.m. today with president W. L. Daniels as chairman. Mayor R. B. Wilson will welcome the delegates.

KIERNAN SPEAKER

Guest speaker Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan will review the petroleum industry in British Columbia with the theme Progress—Pipelines and Prosperity.

At 10 a.m. tomorrow a general meeting will be held with Alberta Mines Minister A. Russell Patrick as guest speaker.

He will deal with the Alberta tar sands and their impact on the pipeline and petroleum industry and will report on Alberta Research Council's work on the transportation of solids through pipelines.

A business meeting will be held in the afternoon.

Tammy Wright greeting a friend. John Moore buying a house.

Defence Value Queried

Ald. Geoffrey Edgell yesterday questioned whether Victoria should bother to form its own civil defence organization.

He said the withdrawal of Esquimalt, leaving Victoria on its own, indicated the organization was "falling apart" at the seams, adding, "People don't seem to support civil defence."

Earlier withdrawal of the federal government from the scene leaving municipalities to form their own organization, Ald. Edgell said, indicates Ottawa has "decided civil defence isn't necessary."

"You're jumping to conclusions," said Ald. J. L. W. McLean, chairman of the city's CD committee.

NO LESS VITAL

"There is no thought on the part of Ottawa that civil defence is less vital now than it was before. And it is not right to say that there is no interest and co-operation being shown towards civil defence on the part of local people."

Ald. Edgell wanted to know if the chairman "as an old army man" didn't feel that the falling apart of the local organization was "a backward step."

BETTER IMPROVEMENT

"I have no right to express an opinion," retorted Ald. McLean, "but those officials responsible for civil defence at both the federal and provincial levels feel this system is an improvement over the old one. For the moment I am content to accept their expert opinion."

Firing Trials Next Week

Navy gun firing trials will be carried out in the Race Rocks, Trial Island area from 6:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Department of Transport announced Thursday.

Fourth Major Route Planned in Oak Bay

Oak Bay is taking steps to create its fourth major north-south route, with southward extension of Midland Road which will give Uplands residents a direct link to Oak Bay village.

A total of $196,215 will have been spent on the new route, if things go according to plan.

The municipality's other major north-south routes are Poul Bay Road, Cadboro Bay Road and Beach Drive.

$81,000 EXTENSION

The scheme, which will go before Oak Bay council Monday night, calls for an $81,000 extension of Midland from Lansdowne to Dorset, use of Musgrave which was improved last year at a cost of about $20,000, and $85,215 worth of local improvements to be made on Hampshire Road from Oak Bay Avenue north to Bowker.

Cost of the Midland extension would be paid for by the municipality, the Uplands company and the frontagers on Midland.

22 PER CENT

Hampshire Road frontages will be asked to pay 22 per cent of the total cost of improvements to their section of the new route.

The Hampshire Road improvement, initiated by council, calls for widening from 28 to 36 feet, installation of street lights and construction of gutters, curbs and two concrete sidewalks.

Quietly standing in front of legislative buildings Thursday are 600 Victoria University students in a demonstration for increased government grants.

15,000 Sign Petition

University Fund Drive By Students to Go On

More than 400 Victoria University students last night collected about 15,000 signatures under a petition asking more funds for higher education from the provincial government.

Seventy-five per cent of the faculty members will sign the petition, said Victoria University student council president Alf Petersen, quoting faculty association president Dr. J. B. MacLean.

Results from students who went to Duncan in a bus yesterday afternoon to collect signatures were not yet known at press time. The canvass for signatures will continue today and Saturday in all major shopping centres in the Greater Victoria area.

MARCHED ON BUILDINGS

Earlier yesterday, 600 Victoria University students marched on the legislature in a surprise move. . . and there were no police, no shouts, no placards, no buses, not even a flag. The march was led by curious MLAs or cabinet ministers to witness the demonstration.

The march to the steps of the legislative buildings was made despite an action committee ruling late Wednesday night not to go ahead with plans for two mock lectures at the legislative buildings.

ORDERLY RALLY

Yesterday's gathering may well go down in B.C. history as one of, if not the most orderly conducted rallies of its kind.

A lone commissioner banded demonstration co-ordinator Lorne Priestly the following note:

"No person shall (a) loiter, or (b) take up habitation, permanent or otherwise, or (c) erect any shelter, enclosure, or other structure upon any path, lane, passage-way, or driveway through lands belonging to the Crown leading to or from any public work or building belonging to the Crown, whether or not the same has been dedicated or established as a public highway, or on the gardens, grounds, or areas appurtenant to or used in connection with government buildings through the province."

"Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 6 of this regulation, every person who violates any of the provisions of section 8 is liable, on summary conviction, to a fine of not more than $25 for each day upon which an offence is committed."

Faced with such a thorough order-in-council, the 600 students just stayed long enough to make their point—showing what they believe a university class could amount to if the government does not grant more money for higher education.

"This is the size of the larger classes at UBC, and this is what we want to prevent," said Victoria University student council president Alf Petersen.

After his words, the students left as quietly as they had come, transported from the campus by six chartered buses.

JAM BUILDING

Meanwhile at the University of B.C. armories Thursday, more than 6,000 students jammed the building, with hundreds left outside in the rain, at a mass meeting pressing for more money for university education.

Both UBC and Victoria University students Monday formed a joint action committee to achieve this goal.

Television Star Buys Cottage at Deep Cove

Television star Sebastian Cabot has bought a small cottage and property at Deep Cove to use as a summer cottage and a retreat for friends.

Price involved was not disclosed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will live on the property for some months. Mr. Cabot is not expected to return to the area until summer.

Mr. Cabot has been looking at various properties in the area since he was in Victoria last summer.

Passenger Suffers Lacerations

Mrs. Elsie Maddox, 28, of 1161 Laing, suffered head and leg lacerations when the car in which she was riding struck a parked car at Cook and Hillside Thursday.

Police said three others in the car, driven by Mrs. Mildred E. Owen, 2274 Albion, escaped serious injury.

Griffin Shifts Support

The man who nominated independent candidate Foster Isherwood at the recent Victoria Liberal nominating convention, former alderman Michael Griffin, has thrown his support behind Liberal candidate David Gross. It was learned yesterday.

Mr. Griffin's name was on David Gross' nomination papers filed yesterday with returning officer Edmond St. Jorre.

"I am squarely behind David Gross as the Liberal candidate," Mr. Griffin said.

Walkathon Entries Total 51

Prizes Ready for Different Categories

Fifty-one Greater Victoria residents from 14 to 63 years of age so far have indicated they want to have a crack at the March 30, 2330 Colonist 50-mile Walkathon.

They'll have to get up at the crack of dawn to be in line for the 5 a.m. starting time on that Saturday, but this should prove a cinch for any dedicated walker.

Why is the Colonist staging a mass walk?

The idea behind the Walkathon is to make the people realize how much fun it is to walk, how healthy it is for the body and how much better regular walkers feel generally. Of course, there will be prizes, too—some for the fastest walkers who come in first in their class, other hidden time prizes for those who maintain a regular pace.

A look at the age and the sex of the 51 entrants to the Colonist Walkathon shows they come from all age groups:

- Six female walkers from 17 to 57.
- Four young girls, all 14.
- Twenty-two men from 17 to 63.
- Nineteen boys from 14 to 18.

These are the four classes: female senior (17 and up); female junior (14 to 16); male senior (17 and up) and male junior (14 to 16).

Quite obviously, a 63-year-old man cannot readily compete against a 23-year-old man, unless, of course, the elderly man is an avid walker and the young man is a behind-the-TV-set sitting type who walks only to the corner store, his office, or his car.

But no entrant in the Walkathon should despair. The hidden time prizes along the route start at city point, out to Saanich Peninsula, across the Cordova Bay area and back to city along Marine Drive—make it possible for everyone to win a handsome present.

Any junior or woman completing 25 miles in 10 hours, or any walker 50 miles in 20, will receive an award, probably a medallion.

Exact route has been established by Colonist car columnist J. T. Jones, but police in the Greater Victoria area will have to give their consent before it can be published.

New members in the executive for the coming year in the B.C. Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church are pictured above. They are, left to right, Miss D. M. Lucas, Comox Deanery; Mrs. F. C. Vaughan-Birch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. Tilley, prayer partner secretary; Mrs. F. A. Goodwin, president; Mrs. H. Garden Tools Go On Sale

By JILL ARLETT

Do people have a hard time finding the way to your house?

No matter how explicit my instructions, would-be visitors to our house invariably wind up block away, puzzling over their road maps.

One Victoria store has just the answer for these house hunters: attractive wooden signs which can easily be placed in a strategic position by your house.

Signs are hand-carved on cedar wood which is treated with linseed oil. The lettering is painted in black, creating a most authentic burnt-wood effect.

You can have your name and address, or even the name of your house, on the sign. (By the way, you're lucky if you have a short name and address, as prices vary according to the number of letters.)

For example, a medium-length name and initials costs about $2.50; sign is about 14 inches long. A full name and street address (about 19 inches long) is $3.50.

If you're wondering where to put your wooden sign, many people hang them from a wooden pole at the front of the driveway, nail them to a tree or even to the side of the house.

This store also features a variety of other items designed to brighten up your house and garden, and yesterday launched its annual spring sale with prices discounted up to 50 per cent.

For those gardeners who find they need some new equipment this year, there are all-metal light-weight wheelbarrows (three cubic foot capacity) priced at $10.98, seven-quart galvanized watering cans at $1.95, and garden hoses and rakes at $1.25 and $1.50.

Fifty-foot black garden hoses are selling for just $1.49, while same-length transparent green hoses, complete with brass couplings, are specially priced at $2.88.

A new order of lawn sprinklers is expected to arrive this weekend, as their sale price of $1.88 made them a fast-moving item. Sprinkler will water a rectangular area, up to 2,000 square feet and carries a two-year guarantee.

If you're in the process of beginning your spring house and garden clean-up, why not call in and get with this spring sale? EV 3-1111 is the number to call for the name of the store where I shopped.

This pleated bathing suit is the latest swim fashion from Australia. The creation is the shape of things to come in the down under country where the summer fun is now in full swing.

Fulford Activities

FULFORD — Miss Dora Payne, director of the Victoria Bookmobile was a guest of Capt. and Mrs. G. Maule, staying in the Maule's guest house are Tony and Christopher Maule. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Maule of Sidney, are currently on a trip to the United States. Taking care of the children at Fulford is Mrs. A. Robertson of Victoria.

Mrs. J. Fraser and her mother, Mrs. A. J. Moffat, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Soderquist at Duncan.

Caroline Macklem Home Operating at a Loss

At the final day of the 38th Lucas, chairman, Comox deanery.

Guest speaker, Rev. N. D. B. Larmouth, L.Th., D.D., spoke of work being done at the Anglican Theological College at the University of British Columbia. Plans are being prepared and construction started on the new dormitory, which will contain 33 rooms and an academic building, as well as a chapel. Many of the present rooms will be reconstructed and enlarged.

Dr. Larmouth said that the Anglican College used to be the most modern and best equipped, now it lags behind all other denominations on the campus.

This urgent problem will be discussed again at the Woman's Auxiliary meeting.

Mrs. E. A. Goodwin was elected president for the coming year; Miss Jane Leigh, Mrs. P. B. Ellis, vice-presidents; Mrs. F. C. Vaughan-Birch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. B. Howland, Dorcas secretary; Mrs. T. Hughes, candidates' secretary; Mrs. N. W. Life, educational secretary; Mrs. P. B. Harrison, Girls' Auxiliary secretary; Mrs. L. Small, Junior Auxiliary; Mrs. H. J. Newnham, little helpers; Mrs. S. G. Hulford, living message; Mrs. T. C. Griffiths, untold thank offering; Mrs. W. B. Osler, social service; Mrs. C. Tilley, prayer partner secretary; Mrs. H. F. Ballantyne, extra costs; Mrs. G. Mortimer, acting chairman, Cowichan deanery; Miss D. M.

Russians Claim Elegance

MOSCOW (UPI) — Simplicity and an "elegant cut" are the keywords for the well-dressed Russian woman this year, Moscow radio said.

The broadcast, reviewing an exhibition of spring and summer fashions in Moscow, said the new line has a slightly higher waist and slightly longer hems.

"Spring coats have a severe and practical cut," it said. "The most fashionable shade will be the long-forgotten lilac."

Expert Says

You Can't Replace The Face You Have

A woman should remember she has only one face and treat it accordingly, is the advice given by Connie Moreton, top ranking cosmetician, beautician, dermatologist, etc., who is in Victoria for a few days.

"If a dress gets shabby from wear and tear it is a simple thing to replace it but you just have to put up with the same old face, no matter what you do to it," she says.

Another belief held by this expert is that "there is no age to beauty." Youth, middle and old age all have their own standards but beauty is possible at all stages.

TO ENHANCE

The main object of makeup should be to enhance rather than cover up the skin, Mrs. Moreton says. And cleanliness is the first and most important rule for skin beauty.

Cleanliness, then is first, stimulation, second, followed by lubrication and the modern, moisturization.

Mrs. Moreton also believes that if a good product is sold correctly and followed faithfully that the product will do what it is said it will.

EYES FIRST

About makeup, Mrs. Moreton thinks that eyes are the most important feature and to use her own words, she "is crazy about eye make up."

But adds a rider that it must be done properly and to suit the individual to look right. She also thinks that green eye shadow is wrong for blue eyes. Care should be taken that other features are not heavily made up to detract from the eyes, says Mrs. Moreton. For instance, she says, if a person uses too much lipstick you are likely to find yourself talking to a mouth instead of looking at their eyes.

LIVED AT SIDNEY

Mrs. Moreton was born in England but came to Canada at an early age. When she was quite a small girl she lived for a short time at Sidney, B.C., so she is not unfamiliar with this area.

Her training in the cosmetic line was in England and covered a period of six years. She also operated her own business for 17 years in London.

An interesting little item about her early days in the business was that two nurses had to be in attendance when permanents were given. And the customer was lucky if she only received 10 turns during these early day operations.

ROYAL FAVOR

Mrs. Moreton is sales representative for a famous English beauty treatment firm. One that has been in business and entered to the Royal House since the time of Queen Victoria.

This business was started in London by a Viennese skin specialist whose secret formulas are still used today. As well as many other modern day formulas, of course.

Make up and beauty treatments were taboo in the days when the skin specialist set up shop. However, he must have had a keen eye for business and also to have known his prospective feminine customers.

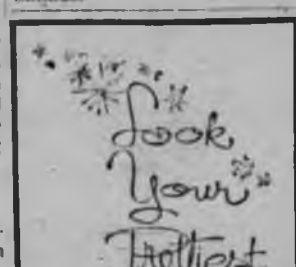

BY BACK DOOR

He located his place of business next door to a fashionable dress-making house so that his clientele could drive in their carriages to the latter. They innocently entered the dress shop, slipped out the back door and entered the beauty house, also by the back door, and then just as innocently left again by the front door of the dressmaker.

But whether this great cosmetic house was built by a back door trade in the beginning it is very much a front door house in this beauty conscious age.

Mrs. Moreton will be in a downtown Victoria drugstore today and tomorrow to give advice on the use of the beauty preparations she promotes in Canada.

Give your wardrobe an enlivening new lift at a very moderate cost, while our fabulous selection is at its peak.

Yesterday's warm temperatures made perfect weather for the spring opening of the ladies' section of Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club. Two-ball foursomes were followed by luncheon in the clubhouse. Left to right are Mrs. Jack Todd, Mrs. V. Skillings, second vice-presdent of the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union, B.C. division; Mrs. T. P. Jackson, second vice-president, CLGU, Vancouver Island division; Mrs. M. Grant, ladies' captain; Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Mrs. J. L. Shields, house committee.

There was a record turnout of members for the annual spring opening at Royal Colwood Golf Club yesterday morning. After participating in two-ball foursomes, the group pictured here are, from left to right, Mrs. J. L. Heffernan, Mrs. J. G. Archambault, Mrs. F. M. Corbett, Mrs. J. T. Fleming, Mrs. V. E. Butler and Mrs. H. Thorburn. Following the play members attended the luncheon in the clubhouse where the tables were decorated with colorful spring flowers.

Women Visitors Violate Rules

By MAGGY O'DOULL
Copley News Service

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala—A woman from North America can find Latin America a puzzling and flustering place.

It's the men who will bother her.

For one thing, a Latin male can't judge a woman's age, particularly a foreign woman. If she has kept her figure and her hair is not grey, the Latin's only yardstick is to ask how many children she has. If she says "none," he is all interest. His attention declines as the number of children increases. If you say "four," he gives up, regardless of age.

There are all kinds of "don'ts" for women in Latin America, and visitors have violated most of them.

For example:

A friend of mine, newly arrived in Guatemala City, sat down on a park bench to wait for her husband who was talking business in an office building across the street.

In no time at all she had attracted so many male Latin admirers that she needed a policeman to direct traffic past the bench. But this woman was stubborn and her feet hurt, so she tried to be haughty and to ignore the crowd. Her husband had to fight his way through to rescue her.

"It's risky," I told her, "to behave naturally in Latin America. Things are different here. Watch how the Latin girls handle themselves."

Watch indeed.

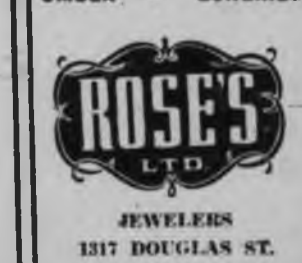

These girls have an art all their own:

Honeymoon at Harrison Follows Wedding Here

A honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs and a skiing trip in the Mount Baker area followed the recent marriage of Miss Sonya Mary Linnea Jonsson and Mr. Tullio Pigert in St. Alban's Church.

Dr. J. E. Bergbush officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joar Jonsson of Sweden, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pigert of Estonia.

The bride was not given in marriage since it is not the custom in Sweden. For the double-ring ceremony she wore a formal gown of rose-hedge peau de soie with scoop neckline and lily-point sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt had box pleats at the back and was finished with a bow. The bride's illusion veil was held by a cluster of pearls and rhinestones. She wore the gift of the groom, a single strand of pearls, and carried a bouquet of deep pink carnations.

Bridesmaid Miss Monica Christmannson, chose a gown of turquoise blue satin with rhinestone tiara and carried pink roses and white freesias. Flower girl, Marvi Ellen Puhvel wore a matching dress with a wreath of tiny white flowers and carried a flower basket. Master Harold Walker, in a white suit was the small pageboy.

Best man was Mr. Alec Walker and ushers were Mr. John A. Whittaker, Mr. W. Arbuckle and Mr. Ants Puhvel.

At the reception at Holyrood House telegrams were read from Estonia and Sweden. Mr. Art Whittaker gave the bridal toast.

For her honeymoon trip the bride changed into a light blue knit suit with white hat and accessories. On returning, they will live in Victoria.

Out-of-town guests included Vancouver guests Mr. and Mrs. Ants Puhvel, Mr. and Mrs. H. Puhvel, Mr. W. Anusner, Mr. and Mrs. R. Ollum, Mr. and Mrs. V. Remm, Mr. and Mrs. A. Tilk, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tilk, Mr. and Mrs. G. Jalaid, Mr. and Mrs. K. Rannadja, Mr. and Mrs. O. Granbacke, Mr. and Mrs. J. Holmes, Miss Monica Christmannson, Mr. Stur Gustafsson and Mr. and Mrs. E. Hofman.

ALLIANCE FRANCAISE

Miss F. M. Kushner, member of the faculty of modern languages at Victoria University, will speak to the Alliance Francaise, Monday, March 18, at 8 p.m. in the Art Gallery. Her subject will be "Francis Mauriac and the Bordeaux Country." Miss Kushner is a graduate of McGill University and has studied in France. While in Bordeaux working on her thesis, "The Political Ideas of Francis Mauriac," she met the Mauriac family. All interested in the French language are welcome.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: As one of the first editors in America to print your column I have more than a casual interest in it. As a parent I have cheered when I felt your counsel was good. Today I thought your counsel was not good. I refer to your approving of boys helping Mom in the kitchen.

As I see it the central issue is should a boy do male work—carrying out the trash, mowing the lawn, shoveling the snow, and so on? Or should he do female work, such as drying the dishes?

Together there has been carried to extremes and with disastrous results. Years ago the situation was equally bad with the all-powerful male and the meek female. But the pendulum has swung too far in the opposite direction. If you start boys out in the kitchen they will be forever mama's boys and yes-men to women.

You may think I'm nuts but I wouldn't let our Johnny help with the dishes, except in an emergency—C.W.

Dear Editor: Today work knows no gender. During the Second World War when America was engaged in a production race for survival, women proved that when there is a job to be done it doesn't make any difference who does it.

A boy in the kitchen needn't be a yes man or a mama's boy. He can be a useful member of the family whose willing hands are making lighter work for his mother.

Your statement that you wouldn't dream of letting your Johnny help with the dishes—"except in an emergency"—helps to make my point. If Johnny is kept out of the kitchen to protect his maleness, he'd be useless in an emergency.

Dear Ann Landers: That college fellow who is in a state of depression because he doesn't have a beard, ought to get down on his knees and thank the Lord for his soft, beardless face.

After the first couple of years of marriage my face began to break out in a rash. I tried staying away from certain foods, I changed from a down pillow to a foam rubber pillow, I bought skin lotions and creams. Nothing seemed to help.

Finally, I went to a skin specialist. He matter of factly said, "This looks like an irritated condition caused by a man's beard." Well, he was right. My husband's beard has gotten tougher with the passing of time and he was scratching me to pieces.

There's no cure for it. The only alternative is to keep away from him—and I don't want to do that.—MRS. SCARFACE.

Dear Mrs.: Thanks for your story. I hope it will make baby face feel better.

Conveners Elected

The following conveners were elected at the recent meeting of the Esquimalt Chapter: JODE: Mrs. G. Crumb, flowers and gifts; Mrs. J. T. Jones, immigration and citizenship; Mrs. G. P. Clarke, commonwealth and world affairs. Mrs. A. W. Smith was appointed delegate to Provincial annual in New Westminster in April. Mrs. A. Hatch standard bearer, will also attend. The chapter voted $50 for education, their golden anniversary project.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Wurtke and Mrs. A. W. Smith presided.

SCHOLARSHIP TEA

University Women's Club will hold a scholarship tea in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, March 30, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Green, Victoria Road, Nanaimo, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Tuesday. They were married in the United Street Church, Nanaimo, and have three daughters and a son, Mrs. Raymond (Frances) Harrison, Mrs. Joseph (Dora) Yuchli, Miss Laura Green, and Mr. Wilfred Green, who all live in Nanaimo. There are three grandchildren.—(Wilf Watson)

Silver Threads Corps Calls for Volunteers

At a recent meeting of the Silver Threads Volunteer Corps, held in the Broughton Street Centre, Miss G. Kensington, membership convener, reported over 150 volunteers are engaged in assisting the elderly as a part of the Silver Threads Service. Mrs. E. Chal-loner, convener of hostesses, and Mrs. D. Kirkpatrick, convener of drivers, both called for more volunteers in these fields.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. W. Logie, president; Mrs. J. Walker, vice-president; Mrs. E. Jones, secretary; Mrs. D. Revell, treasurer; Miss G. Kensington, membership convener; Mrs. E. Stibbard, visiting convener; Mrs. M. Cowdery, convener; Mrs. D. Kirkpatrick, driving; Mrs. M. Kinch, hostess convener.

Bike, Boy Collide

A six-year-old boy suffered a broken left leg Tuesday when he collided with a bicycle while playing in a vacant lot at Foul Bay Road and Lansdowne Ave. Police said Kevin Barreux, 4270 Cedar Hill Road, ran into the path of a bicycle being ridden by another boy. He was reported in satisfactory condition in hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Green, Victoria Road, Nanaimo, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last Tuesday. They were married in the United Street Church, Nanaimo, and have three daughters and a son, Mrs. Raymond (Frances) Harrison, Mrs. Joseph (Dora) Yuchi, Miss Laura Green, and Mr. Wilfred Green, who all live in Nanaimo. There are three grandchildren.—(Will Watson)

Silver Threads Corps Calls for Volunteers

At a recent meeting of the Silver Threads Volunteer Corps, held in the Broughton Street Centre, Miss G. Kensington, membership convener, reported over 150 volunteers are engaged in assisting the elderly as a part of the Silver Threads Service. Mrs. E. Chaloner, convener of hostesses, and Mrs. D. Kirkpatrick, convener of drivers, both called for more volunteers in these fields.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. W. Logie, president; Mrs. J. Walker, vice-president; Mrs. E. Jones, secretary; Mrs. D. Revell, treasurer; Miss G. Kensington, membership convener; Mrs. E. Stubbard, visiting convener; Mrs. M. Cowdery, convener; Mrs. D. Kirkpatrick, driving; Mrs. M. Kinch, hostess convener.

Bike, Boy Collide

A six-year-old boy suffered a broken left leg Tuesday when he collided with a bicycle while playing in a vacant lot at Foul Bay Road and Lansdowne Ave. Police and Kevin Barreault, 4270 Cedar Hill Road, ran into the path of a bicycle being ridden by another boy. He was reported in satisfactory condition in hospital.

Milk Revolt

A meeting of Vancouver Island dairymen next week is expected to demand the resignation of members of the British Columbia Milk Board. A similar demand came Monday from a meeting of the Mainland Dairymen's Association at Abbotsford, following a Dec. 1 order by the board, cutting the producer's price for fluid milk.

Members of the provincial milk board are E. C. Carr, chairman, UBC economist Dr. William Anderson, and Jack Honeyman of Ladner who represents producers. Dairymen claim the board's order will cost producers close to $1,000,000 a year.

Mainland Dairymen's Association has also decided to take legal action against the milk board over the controversial order.

A meeting of the Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association is expected to be held next week, possibly Wednesday, but no details had been arranged by last night.

Sweet Adeline Color Bar Showing Up Across Canada

From CP and UPI

Color bar of the female barbershop singing Sweet Adelines is showing up in other Canadian centres after a Negro was barred from a group in Ottawa.

Officials of Calgary and Winnipeg chapters of the United States-based International Sweet Adelines, Inc., said organizational bylaws had to be honored even if the color bar clause was "unfortunate."

HALF-GROUP QUILTS

In Ottawa, about half of the Sweet Adelines group have resigned and will form another club, a spokesman said Thursday.

The women quit after Mrs. Lana Clowes, a Negro housewife, was barred from the Ottawa chapter.

The new group said it would affiliate with Harmony, Inc., a group without a color bar. Mrs. Clowes, who had sung with the Ottawa Sweet Adelines although she was not a member, said she would probably join the splinter faction.

CALGARY BAR

Mrs. J. A. Burt, president of the Calgary Sweet Adelines chapter, said a Negro's application for membership in the Calgary branch would be rejected.

"It is unfortunate that they have a clause like this," she said. "We are trying to eliminate it."

Mrs. Burt said an Indian woman has applied for membership in the Calgary chapter but this does not present a problem "only Negroes."

Mrs. Marion Brennan of Winnipeg, a board member of the International Sweet Adelines, said she hoped the organization's segregation rule was a "temporary thing."

SEEDS OF ALL

"The board of directors passed the bylaw for the good and need of every member, and bylaws can't be broken or waived by members or chapters," she said. "If a Negro member from Canada went to conventions for competition in the States she would not be able to stay in the convention hotel."

In Tulsa, Okla., the executive secretary of International Sweet Adelines, Inc., Nancy Bergman, confirmed that the color bar clause was designed to prevent a racial incident.

"While it is understood that no racial problems, civil or social, exist in the city of Ottawa, or in other parts of Canada, it is an unhappy fact that such social problems do exist in much of the territory of the Sweet Adeline organization."

These three know a thing or two about Scotch

The things they know about making Scotch couldn't be written down, they're bred in. And added to during a lifetime of experience.

Roland's great-grandfather was a maltman, and so was George's.

Sawn from specially selected cedar logs and graded to accentuate the naturally beautiful markings of British Columbia cedar, new "RANCHPANEL" provides a delightfully different, unmistakably modern look wherever it's used. WHEN YOU BUY SPECIFY "RANCHPANEL" SIDING WHAT IS FOREST SIDING? Made of dry 1 1/2" stock in 10 and 12-inch widths, "FOREST" siding is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, burls, etc. APPEARANCE? For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired, enhanced by heavy shadow lines. Sound intergrown knots ranging in size from 2-inch in 6-inch widths to 1-inch in 12-inch widths add to the rustic appearance of this grade. WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES? "FOREST" siding, with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural STRENGTH and solidity of the building. The design of "FOREST" siding ensures a tight weather seal at the lap which together with its thickness and flush-to-base principle makes excellent material for the INSULATION stand-point. Winning Contract Players who have a tremendous urge to own their own home should follow the example of the goldfish, which frequently opens its mouth, but never says anything.
In defensive positions, particularly, players tend to make bids and double which serve only to help their opponents, as West did on this deal.
There is no good reason why West should bid, at all over South's opening bid of one spade. He has good defensive values; but it is unlikely that his side will buy the contract. To overall vulnerable at the two-level, normally requires a six-card suit. His three small spades are a distinct liability, and he could easily suffer heavy penalty. In fact, two clubs doubled would have cost 300 points. It would be equally unwise for West to double one spade. A double of one spade in the unbid major unless the doubler is extremely strong.

THE RESULT OF WEST'S ACTIVITY
The result of West's activity in the auction was that South had sufficient clues in the play to hold a difficult contract. West's misdirected double marked him with all the missing high cards, and this, combined with his two club bid, suggested a five-card club suit and a probable heart shortage.

WEST MADE THE BEST LEAD OF A TRUMP DECLARER
West played the diamond ace and made the key play of a small heart. East won and led a second trump, taken by dummy's king. Declarer ruffed a diamond, collecting West's king. West's remaining trump was drawn, leaving West with just his five clubs. South cashed his two winning hearts and led a club. West had to concede the last trick to dummy's club queen.

8,000,000 See B.C. Totem

VICTORIA was in the limelight in 8,000,000 United States homes yesterday when a five-foot Victoria-carved totem pole was presented to Jack Bailey of the Queen for a Day television show. Ronald Worley, left, assistant general manager of the B.C. Toll Authority Ferry System, made the presentation several days ago during the British Columbia Salutes California goodwill tour, and the show was seen here yesterday.

Strike Talks Go On

Cemetery Bid Fails

VANCOUVER (CP)—The men rejected the new pay and union officials met offer, he said, because it did not provide retroactive wages. Representatives here amounting to about $36 per Thursday after 30 grave-diggers rejected a new wage offer made by two strike-bound cemeteries.

Business agent Joe Desautels, Local 602, Construction and General Laborers' Union, said no development resulted from the meeting but further talks are scheduled.

Gilbert Arnold, president of Ocean View and Forest Lawn Cemeteries, said the company offered to meet the demand, but could not meet retroactive clauses back to Jan. 9.

Rail Wreck Solved By Circus

PORT ELIZABETH (AP)—South African railwaymen were struggling with a large ballast-tamping machine derailed between Grahamstown and Alkendale.

Then a circus train came along and donated the services of two elephants which pushed the machine back on the rails.

University Salaries Show Climb

OTTAWA (CP)—The median salary for full-time university teachers during the current academic year is 6.6 per cent higher than last year and 50.4 per cent higher than in 1956-57, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday.

The bureau survey, covering 7,441 persons in 60 universities and colleges, showed the median salary for 1962-63 at $8,685. As in previous years the biological sciences remained the best paid field with a median salary of $9,749 for its teaching staff, excluding deans. Median salary for physical sciences was $8,740, social sciences $8,388 and humanities $5,723.

PRIOR TO RAILING

The boy, Andrew McLeod, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. R. McLeod of Killam, Alta., was travelling to England with his mother and two sisters. It was feared he had been bitten or scratched by a rabid dog before leaving home.

His mother told reporters in Edmonton by Telephone that the boy was "perfectly okay."

TESTS INCONCLUSIVE

A laboratory in Alberta said Thursday that preliminary tests on the dog's body were inconclusive, but that there was enough suspicion to send material to the Canadian government's main laboratory near Hull, Que.

The results were not expected for several days. If negative, the boy could discontinue the painful treatment of injections for 14 days.

His father said in Killam that he does not think Andrew contracted rabies. "The bite was very, very small," he said.

Trial 'Unfair'

Major Ruled
Not Guilty

OTTAWA (CP)—The Court Martial Appeal Court Thursday acquitted Maj. William Allan Platt of trafficking illegally in gold in Indochina in 1961.

MAJOR W. A. PLATT
... suffered injustice

The three-member court in a unanimous judgment found that the 48-year-old army officer, convicted by a court martial here in May, 1962, did not receive a fair trial.

"The conviction cannot stand," said Mr. Justice T. G. Norris who wrote the court's reason for judgment.

GROUNDS FOR APPEAL

Mr. Justice Norris said Maj. Platt, formerly of Cobourg and Picton, Ont., suffered "substantial injustice" with respect to eight of 14 grounds on which he based his appeal to the court martial appeal court.

The court granted Maj. Platt's appeal against his conviction, heard by the court last October, and ordered that "a finding of not guilty be recorded."

ON TRUCE TEAM

Maj. Platt was convicted of a breach of army discipline while serving with the International Truce Supervisory Commission in Indochina.

A court martial found him guilty of organizing and participating in the illegal transportation of gold between Laos and South Viet Nam.

He received a $500 fine and was given a severe reprimand—a notation on his service record that affected his opportunities for promotion.

The judgment took strong exception to a decision of the judge advocate-general (Brig. W. J. Lawson) to refuse a request by R. K. Lashley, civilian.

Three Nations Map
Union

DAMASCUS (UPI)—A joint Egyptian-Iraqi-Syrian commission was formed in Cairo Thursday to negotiate a federal union between the three nations, the Syrian government said Thursday night.

The action was announced by new Premier Salah el Bitar, a member of the Arab Ba'athist party which advocates such a union.

He said the union would be open to Algeria and the Yemen if they wanted to join.

LAY GROUNDWORK

Delegates from the new Syrian and Iraqi governments went to Cairo Thursday for talks with Egyptian officials aimed at laying the groundwork for such unity.

Bitar said the commission would negotiate and establish the basis for a federal union. The findings of the proposed commission must be unanimous and would later form the basis for a plebiscite in all three nations "which must be carried out quickly," Bitar said.

ASKED TO PARLEY

Algeria and the Yemen have been invited to join the preliminary negotiations in Cairo if they wish, he said.

Bitar said the federation also would be open to "any other Arab nation that liberates itself."

Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Algeria and the Yemen claim they are the only "liberated" Arab nations. An Iraqi official said recently that such nations as Tunisia, Morocco and Libya were not "liberated."

Committee Can't Read
RCMP Secret Report

ROADBLOCK
BY BONNER

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

The B.C. government moved swiftly and without warning yesterday to block efforts of its public accounts committee to secure copies of an RCMP report on a Trans-Canada Highway project.

The committee is probing serious accusations against the department and Highways Minister Gagliardi by Montana contractor Dick Holzworth.

Charges of "stalling" in attempting to gain access to the report were levelled by some committee members Tuesday at Chairman Irvine Corbett.

Mr. Corbett promised then he would ask leave of the House as soon as possible to obtain the report.

He made his move at the end of yesterday's legislative sitting.

But it was effectively blocked by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

A resolution made by Mr. Corbett to the effect that the committee's request for the report be approved could not be dealt with without the unanimous consent of the House.

PUBLIC POLICY

"I would have to oppose as public policy," said Mr. Bonner. His move brought cries of "shame" and "shocking" from opposition benches.

Outside the House, Mr. Bonner said that police reports are never made public and that there was no justification for placing them in the hands of MLAs.

BLACKGUARD THREAT

"In the hands of an unscrupulous government they could be used to blackmail everybody in sight."

They are not even shown to judges during court cases nor to presiding officers of a royal commission.

EFFECTIVENESS

Their release would destroy police effectiveness, because much of their content is obtained upon condition that it not be made public.

Mr. Bonner touched briefly on Opposition leader Robert Strachan's objections during committee hearing earlier this week that committee counsel Lloyd McKenzie had been allowed the same access to the police report that was being denied to members.

PROCEDURE CITED

He said this is standard procedure for counsel, "who enjoy a special position," and can use such reports upon which to base questioning of witnesses.

In the case of Mr. McKenzie, he added, he was accorded the special privilege of examining the report so that he would know what witnesses to call to obtain evidence relevant to the committee probe.

HEARSAY

The report is only hearsay evidence, he said, and to produce it as evidence at the committee hearings "would violate practically every concept of fair play and jurisprudence in our society."

Nobody who understood the situation properly would want to receive the report.

He pointed out that the committee is sitting in judgment in the probe and that it should not want hearsay evidence.

OBSTACLES?

Mr. Strachan said outside the House that it was an obvious attempt to place obstacles in the committee's path.

The committee is probing allegations that Highways Minister Gagliardi promised to reward a contracting company if it paid off a friend's debt of $6,700 and that a related company.

Rail Strike

France
Faces
New Crisis

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle Thursday took personal command of efforts to end the worst labor crisis of his regime and was faced immediately with a new strike threat by 300,000 more nationalized workers.

De Gaulle presided over a restricted meeting of cabinet ministers directly connected with the French economy which the president fears is endangered by the strike wave spearheaded by 200,000 defiant coal miners.

RAIL STRIKE

But shortly after the cabinet group met, rail union leaders ordered the approximately 300,000 employees of the state-operated French railways to stage a 24-hour strike today. The walkout, in protest against government rejection of demands for pay raises, is certain to halt the nation's rail system.

The central strike committee representing 200,000 state-employed coal miners rejected the government's first positive step to end the miners' two week old strike.

GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE

The government announced Thursday it would appoint a committee to investigate the miners' demand for an 11 per cent wage increase and a reduction in working hours from 47 to 40.

University—Official July 1

Clearihue to Be First Chancellor

By ION MATHESON

University of Victoria officially comes into being July 1.

Retired county court judge J. B. Clearihue, chairman of the existing Victoria College Council, becomes first Chancellor of the university.

Those are among highlights

provisions of new legislation—"An Act Respecting Universities"—introduced in the legislature Thursday.

It also creates a new Simon Fraser University somewhere in the Lower Fraser Valley.

Introduced by Education Minister Leslie Peterson, the bill creates an organization

common to all the public universities, including UBC.

It also allows for complete autonomy for all three and creates two new advisory boards.

Also made possible are increased university grants this year.

Under provisions of the legislation, Mr. Clearihue is designated chancellor of the university for at least six months after the bill almost certain to pass the legislature comes into effect July 1.

Outside the House, Mr. Peterson had nothing specific to say about increased financial aid to the universities over and above grants already announced.

CAN SUPPLY FUNDS

But under a section "funds" the bill says:

"That in the event there is no legislative vote this year to provide funds for the universities, 'for in the event of an insufficiency thereof' Premier Bennett, as finance minister, and Mr. Peterson can recommend supplying the funds out of general revenue."

He also said later that he was "confident" there would be an improvement in federal financial aid for education.

URGENT REQUIREMENT

This was because there was unanimous opinion across the country that greater federal aid for education was an "urgent requirement," he said.

The July 1 date for the legislation was selected by the boards of UBC and Victoria University as the date they wanted it to come into force, he said.

The legislation had been gone over by the committee he set up and "approved in principle" by the boards of both universities, he added.

MORE FLEXIBLE

Little in the legislation changes any of the powers of the universities, but makes the operations of various governing bodies more flexible.

The flexibility will allow the three institutions to conduct

Up to Their Old Tricks

Exiled City Playgirls
Irk Siberian Wives

MOSCOW (AP)—Irish Siberian housewives are protesting against exiling big city playgirls to their villages.

Speaking for the aroused village women, Mrs. V. Marina of Irkutsk, made the point in the Moscow newspaper Literaturnaya Gazeta.

Mrs. Marina said she was incensed by reports from Leningrad that a young woman of easy virtue named Tova was slated for exile to Siberia to mend her ways.

"This is simply offensive and insulting for us Siberians," she wrote. "Won't this piece of goods from the capital find admirers even in a new place? She probably will."

I know that the wives of a few Bolshevik ministers, for example, turned to the authorities with a request to quit sending the likes of Tosca to Baidarbino.

Mrs. Marina's attack on the flashy housewives from the big cities was the latest in a series of complaints from the provinces about the flood of bootleggers, idlers and undesirable who have been exiled to villages.

The exiles are supposed to be re-educated through manual labor on the farms. But reports indicate they are mostly drinking, brawling, thieving and loafing.

So the peasants are mad at the city people for dumping their problems on them.

Biggest Rally for Grits

6,000 Hear Pearson

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson made the London arena, then spoke anti-American on the other, three speeches Thursday night to a throng of about 1,200 more in Mr. Pearson told an arena audience which was generous with its applause.

"We never had it so good," a woman shouted at one point. Mr. Pearson got the loudest applause of the night when he retorted: "Ask that of the 541,000 who are looking for work."

Bird Acts Lay Egg

LONDON, Ont. (UPI)—As far as some campaigners are concerned the general election race is for the birds. The Liberals released 12 homing pigeons here Tuesday night to go to a rally for Liberal Lester Pearson in Joliette, Que. They never arrived.

And in Toronto, New Democratic candidate Robert Beaudry was suggesting that Canada was for the birds, when a canary flew through a window and landed on his head.

Somali Breaks

Seattle Rejects
Fluoridation

SEATTLE (AP)—Voters here have turned down a suggestion that city's water be fluoridated.

The referendum was defeated 57,621 to 13,284.

Bonner Blocks Report

pany was paid, $153,000, for work which was never performed.

Mr. Strachan said, "It is obvious the government doesn't want the full light of publicity to shine on the affair under investigation by the committee."

"It is evident further that the government is prepared to put any block it can in the way of the members of the committee in obtaining the fullest possible information on Project 819."

was said to have received the $153,000 overpayment.

I am rather shocked that the government would take this attitude," said the opposition leader.

GLOSS OVER
It would indicate that the government only wants a perfunctory investigation into the whole matter, and it is willing to gloss over material of this kind that could be of assistance to the committee.

Ironically, Mr. Bonner used the same procedural gambit to block access to the RCMP report as Mr. Strachan used on Feb. 26 when he tried to block the attorney-general's move to place the allegations in the hands of the committee. Mr. Strachan wanted a royal commission probe.

When a resolution is made from the floor the unanimous consent of the House is required.

Without that, it must take its place at the end of a long list of other resolutions and can only be moved up on the order paper by a majority vote.

TOO LATE
Traditionally, unless the government changes its mind and brings the resolution forward by the weight of its legislative majority, it won't be dealt with until the last day of the session, too late to help the committee.

Sitters Sentenced
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Eight Negro college students were sentenced to three months in the workhouse and fined $50 each Wednesday for staging a sit-in demonstration at a downtown cafeteria last October.

A senior highways department official admitted Thursday he did not know how his engineers in the field estimated how much work was being done.

The admission came from E. C. Webster, director of provincial highways construction, under questioning by Opposition Leader Robert Strachan.

Mr. Strachan was exploding Mr. Webster's statements Wednesday before the legislative investigation in charges against the highways department.

CAUGHT UP
Then, Mr. Webster said that field engineers deliberately made "conservative estimates" early in highways projects, then caught up to the actual amounts of material that had been moved later in the project.

This explained how one payment on the controversial Project 819 appeared to be $100,000 higher than preceding or following one, he said.

Affidavits, which started the committee hearings, claimed the payments were padded by the amount.
But he told Mr. Strachan Thursday that "I have no knowledge" of whether the field estimates were 10, 15 or even 20 per cent under the actual work done.

It "could have been 20 per cent" on the controversial job, he said at one point.

OUTBURST
Mr. Strachan's point-by-point examination of cubby yard figures, in an apparent attempt to disprove the "pick-up" explanation for the big payment, drew a sudden outburst from Victoria M.L.A. Waldo Skillings.

"On a point of order, he shouted, 'I object most strenuously to this type of question of a senior official.'"

Ruled out of order, he said, "Well, I want to at least express my opinion."

STILL QUIET
Despite Mr. Skillings' outburst, the hearing was the quietest so far.

An overflow crowd of spectators, with 80 to 100 seated and 40 standing, saw some of the verbal pyrotechnics, shouting a disapproval of previous sessions.

The hearing will resume Monday at 9:30 a.m.

During other testimony under Mr. Strachan's questioning, Mr. Webster admitted knowledge of whether the

He signed the estimate sheets "month after month" without knowing the percentage of "pick-up" under estimating later worked on his engineers.

He "understood what you're Mr. Strachan getting at."

That no copy of another estimate sheet which he admitted changing to allow a contractor $35,000 more was ever shown the federal government, which shared costs in this particular project.

Such a change was not customary and he couldn't remember another specific one.

Earlier testimony was that the change had been made after the first contractor on the job Burton Lymburner had not been "happy" with the way one portion of the job had been estimated.

He had not spoken to Highways Minister Gagliardi about the change, but had made it after discussions with a senior highway official, the chief engineer, he had never met Mr. Lymburner, and didn't know who Mr. Lymburner saw to begin negotiations about the change.

The resident engineer or the project, E. H. Barclay, told him he had destroyed a field book tally—a log book of an amount of under-estimated material in the project.

Destroying such records was "not" customary.

No one had given him permission to destroy them.

Exclusive Finger-Tip Start Reduces Starting Effort 94%

The 1963 Lawn-Boy is as easy to start as drawing a window blind. Lawn-Boy engineers have designed a new ignition system and geared starter that reduces starting effort an incredible 94%.

Lightweight. Lawn-Boy is easier to push than conventional steel power mowers because Lawn-Boy is made of magnesium, a metal lighter than steel. It is unusually tough and is rust-proof.

Unique Grasscatcher. Lawn-Boy's Chute & Bag Grasscatcher vacuum cleans your lawn as you cut, eliminates raking. It is clog-proof; holds a bushful;

detaches and empties in seconds.

2-speed Mowing. Lawn-Boy has 2-speed throttle control. High speed for tough cutting, low speed for quiet, more economical normal cutting.

New "D" Engine. Lawn-Boy's new engine has 3 horsepower working horsepower, not bench-rated horsepower. It will even cut through wet grass without stalling.

2-Year Warranty. 24 months against defective parts and workmanship.

Let your Lawn-Boy Dealer show you the new Lawn-Boy soon, see for yourself why it's Canada's best-selling power mower. 5 models to choose from.

Surgeon Says:

Sex, Salads, Scotch Just Thing for Health

TORONTO (CP)—Sex, salads and scotch whisky are just the things for keeping healthy, the put him in the hands of a psychiatrist, or he'll beat his wife to death.

Dr. James Key, associate professor of surgery at the University of Toronto, said there were four S's to remember if you want to stave off heart trouble and peripheral blocked arteries.

NO SMOKING—BUT

The first "S" is smoking. Don't, said Dr. Key. But have "plenty of salads, plenty of scotch and plenty of sex, if you can," he recommended.

But if a man has smoked all his life and is over 40, don't recommend that he stop.

Dr. Key said "because it may give him a guilt complex and put him in the hands of a psychiatrist, or he'll beat his wife to death."

Television commercials got the word out, too. They cause people to take exercise, Dr. Key said, by walking to the kitchen or bathroom.

Nuclear Debate Flares

The question of nuclear arms for Canada brought tempers to the flaring point at a Liberal-Conservative debate last night.

But voters also wanted to know whether they will be faced with another federal election a few months from now.

About 75 people attended the Esquimalt-Saanich debate between Liberal candidate Robert Ostler and Conservative George Chatterton, in St. George the Martyr Church Hall.

Mr. Ostler contended that Canada has not lived up to her NATO commitments for providing her military forces with nuclear weapons, and that the weapons are needed.

Mr. Chatterton maintained that Canada agreed only to operate carriers capable of delivering nuclear weapons, and that no nuclear weapons were to be used by her short of an all-out war.

Late in the meeting, someone asked the candidates their positions if a government without a working majority is elected.

"Some effort would have to be made toward coalition," said Mr. Ostler.

If the Liberals get in office without a working majority, he said, it would be "up to the Liberal party to bring forth a type of legislation which would appeal to opposition parties."

Mr. Chatterton said, "It is possible that for many years to come there will be government by minority governments," but in time, "the minor parties will disappear."

"To me, the government puts up legislation not such that the opposition will approve—the government puts up legislation that it feels essential to the interests of Canada."

Centenarian Signs for NDP

When blind New Democratic Party candidate John Windsor filed his nomination papers yesterday, with the assistance of his seeing-eye girl, Susan Mitchell, he also had the support of a 100-year-old man.

Among the signatures on his nomination paper was that of William Rowles, 100, of 723 open house.

Mrs. George Chatterton has returned from Ottawa and is out knocking on doors with her husband, who is seeking re-election as the Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Esquimalt-Saanich.

There are some changes, mostly minor, from recommendations made in the report of education by Dr. John Macdonald, president of UBC.

One comes in the two new boards on finance and academic standards.

The education minister, "as a responsible minister of the crown," has the power to appoint an advisory board to make recommendations on the division of government grants among the universities, Mr. Peterson said.

The report suggested the cabinet should appoint it, but this way was "less formal."

The board will consist in part of members nominated in equal numbers by each of the universities.

TO APPOINT CHAIRMAN
The minister will appoint the chairman and enough members to equal the number of university appointees.

The academic board is to be composed of two members appointed by the senate of each university and three by the cabinet, to hold office for three years and be eligible for reappointment.

Provisions are added to allow it such officers and staff as it may need, with expenses borne by the universities.

Its job is to keep in review the academic standards and orderly academic development of the universities and colleges.

It is also to report on "any matters respecting academic standards and development in higher education" as the minister of education may require.

One change in the general provisions of the legislation is that the chancellor of any university is no longer automatically the chairman of the board of governors.

ELECT OWN
Each board will now elect its own, who may be the chancellor.

Changes in senate regulations make them "more flexible," with the university given a range from six to 15 elected members so that the full senate can be as large as desired.

There is no attempt to spell out from what organizations senate members can be elected.

For Victoria University the changes are a complete switch from the current principal and 11 councillors.

The board of governors, for example, will consist of:

Eleven members; the chancellor, the president, three members of the senate, and six members appointed by the government cabinet.

Elsewhere in the bill, the B.C. School Trustee Association has its representation on the joint board of teacher education boosted from one to two members.

Referring specifically to Victoria University, the bill says Mr. Clearhue continues as chairman of the council of the college until the new legislation comes into force, then becomes chancellor until his successor is elected.

That election, for chancellor and senate members, must be held within six months of the bill coming into force.

First election of one member of each faculty, by faculty members to the senate is scheduled in April.

TO APPOINT BOARD
The cabinet will appoint the first chancellor and board for the Simon Fraser University so they can go ahead with site selection, building planning and other preparations.

All will be done under government approval, until such time as an election of members can be held.

Mr. Peterson commented that while the July 1 date perhaps appeared distant, it was little enough time "to get the machinery" of the new legislation and universities going.

UBC president Dr. John Macdonald told the Colonist last night he is enthusiastic about the plan for Victoria University to achieve full university status July 1.

"Many groups in Victoria have been concerned with this, and I think the concept outlined in the (Macdonald) report helped," he said.

J. B. Clearhue, who will be the university's first chancellor "has been dedicated to Victoria University for a long time. Citizens need this kind of dedication," Dr. Macdonald said.

There is no attempt to spell out from what organizations senate members can be elected.

Health Unit Fund Near $5,000 Mark

NANAIMO—Russell Neville, chairman of the Mental Health Unit Fund, reports that the fund is over the $3,000 mark and $5,000 is in sight. He said that so far contributions have been mostly from unions, service organizations and "plain John Doe," and he does not expect to get the big business donations until after the middle of the month.

The chairman is optimistic that the objective of the drive will be reached by the last day of March. Donations are to be sent to the Mental Health Unit Fund, Central Vancouver Island Health Centre, Pridoux Street, Nanaimo.

CAMPBELL RIVER—For the third time in succession, Royal Canadian Legion was first-prize winner in the annual Bids and Pieces review in the high school auditorium here.

Second and third places went to Sayward Recreation Association and the Eagles.

A capacity audience enjoyed the program, sponsored as a fund-raising event by Campbell River Recreation Association.

COURTENAY—Cumberland Kinettes won the $50 first prize and the Courtenay Recreation Association's shield when audience vote named their "TV" show best of the six skits entered in the 17th annual Skattered Skits.

Runner-up for $30 was Union Bay's Bingo Trial, and third for $20 was Mount Becher Ski Club's Looking Back sketch.

Others entered were Courtenay Little Theatre, Sonopix and Eagles Auxiliary.

DUNCAN—Nanaimo alderman and Liberal candidate in the forthcoming federal election, Douglas Greer recently gave members of the Duncan Junior Chamber of Commerce a brief outline of his party's history, aims and objects. Past Jaycee president J. M. Prasiloski said Mr. Greer was the first political speaker and it is planned to have the three other candidates of the Nanaimo-Cowichan and The Islands riding address the Junior Chamber here.

Mr. Prasiloski said his group will build a child's playhouse as a fund-raising affair. Another near-future project of the Duncan Jaycees calls for friendly correspondence with outer Mongolia to establish links with that country. In a letter from Tarenga, New Zealand, Jaycees, the local group was told the Tarenga unit recently completed a $24,000 fountain for their city. Mr. Prasiloski stated the Duncan Junior Chamber decided to assist the Cowichan Exhibition in this year's fall fair.

PARKSVILLE—A St. Patrick's Dance will be held by St. Arrowsmith Legion branch at the Legion hall at 9 p.m. Saturday.

PARKSVILLE—Annual general meeting of Little Qualicum Credit Union will be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the Legion hall.

DUNCAN—Staff member of the Victoria University sociology department, Dr. Roy Watson, will speak on Canada, a Changing Complex, at the Cowichan Senior Secondary School next Wednesday at 8 p.m. The address is sponsored by the Cowichan Adult Education Committee.

DUNCAN—Beginning of World Understanding Week here will be marked Monday by the Duncan Rotary dinner meeting with representatives from different ethnic groups as special guests.

Speaker of the evening will be the German Consul from Vancouver, who will talk on the Berlin situation and show a film of that city titled The Wall of Shame.

All arrangements for this event are complete, said organizer Bert Gray. Date for this year's Rotary auction has been set for May 10. Committee chairman Dennis Corfield said he hopes to have a depot set up at Duncan where contributions may be left.

DUNCAN—The spring flower show of the Valley Garden Club April 20 will be one of the finest ever seen here, says Mrs. J. V. Donohue. J. Schmidt of the hospital landscape committee is pleading for volunteers and plants in this large community project, and anyone interested in helping may phone him at 746-5903.

COURTENAY—Four local teenagers, Bill Edgar, Larry Christie, Bruce Ament and Charlie Zurke, walked the 30 miles to Willow Point and back in 17 hours.

Six girls, Donna Parkin, Heather and Marjorie Lyster, Rena Tinga and Pam and Dorothy Dawson set out and gave up at Miracle Beach, 11 miles from here.

Counsellor Not Replaced

NANAIMO—Mrs. Betty Morton, marriage counsellor attached to the Canadian Mental Health Association in Nanaimo who gave in her resignation to the association last month, has not yet been replaced. The association hopes to keep this counselling service going until the new mental health unit planned for Nanaimo is in operation.

More Productivity Urged by Cameron

NANAIMO—Massive public investment to expand existing productive power and put industry into the country's depressed areas was urged by Colin Cameron, federal NDP candidate, at a meeting here this week.

The speaker drew a comparison between our situation today and that of the wartime years.

SIMILAR STEPS—If it was possible in the years between 1939 and 1945 to expand Canada's industrial plant five-fold, to more than double the volume of wages and salaries distributed and raise the Canadian standard of living while turning out a mountain of war material, it is surely possible to take similar steps now to solve our economic problems.

Mr. Cameron pointed out that this public investment was made by the government with our own resources, not with capital imported from outside the country.

"It is true enough that after having invested your savings in this way the Liberal government after the war sold your property back to private business at fire-sale prices," he said. The investment in industrial expansion, the NDP is urging, must remain the property of the Canadian people, to be extended as more and more capital accumulates, declared the NDP candidate.

One source of funds for immediate investment was, the speaker suggested, in savings in defence spending.

"In the last decade we have spent more than $18,000,000,000 on defence which has provided no defence because there is no defence from modern weapons," he said. "Most of this would have been better employed in the sort of program made by the government with our own resources, not with

Action Sought to Stop Drop-Outs

DUNCAN—A special group of the winter works committee here strongly recommended immediate measures to prevent further early drop-out of students from high school.

In their findings, following a detailed study of the problem, they feel the present academic courses in secondary schools should be broadened through establishment of vocational and technical courses.

LIAISON—Secondly, members of the sub-committee urged that consideration be given to ask the department of education to appoint liaison officers in each school district to act as links between school and certain homes. It is anticipated that this measure could improve the attitude of some parents towards the educational needs not only of secondary students but school children in all age groups.

While probing the serious problem of drop-out students members of the special committee made sample checks of home environments and spoke to a number of school principals. One of the principals suggested the forming of a district youth council to carry out an appropriate educational scheme. Another explained some students cannot advance beyond the Grade 8 level.

He said in Grade 9 a vocational program is available at the Cowichan Senior Secondary school. Most principals feel in many homes of drop-out students parents show little interest in schooling. One of the educationalists stated there always will be some students with low academic levels but some are merely "fed up with reading and writing" and those could be motivated to follow a practical line of training. He concluded once they get started they will realize the need for further education. Local manager of the National Employment office stated a large number of unemployed applicants are 20 years and under and have not completed their high school education.

Method of Choice Hit

Who Becomes Prosecutor?

A five-man committee of the Victoria Bar Association yesterday pronounced the city's jail facilities outmoded and expressed concern over the methods adopted by the city in choosing a city prosecutor.

The pronouncement came after the criminal justice committee of the association had been taken on a tour of the jail by Chief Const. John Blacklock.

Members of the committee are David Hummel, Brian Roberts, Ian

Stewart, Rodney Taylor and Michael Warren.

In a joint statement they said the present facilities were definitely outmoded and they would pass along their findings in detail to the Victoria Bar Association which would, in turn, make recommendations to the city and investigator George Archer.

They said they found the chief most cooperative and would like to thank him for an informative tour.

Their objection to the mode of obtaining a new city prosecutor is in putting the job out for tender.

"This does not establish a position which calls for any particular qualifications," Mr. Hummel said. "The city is not buying so many sacks of potatoes. With the growth of the area it is most important to get a good prosecutor at this time."

Other members of the committee agreed and all pointed out that none of the group was interested in applying for the position.

"We will also raise this issue with the Bar Association and with Mr. Archer," Mr. Taylor said.

People's Market
Parksville Idea

PARKSVILLE—A People's Market, perhaps patterned after those so familiar in the Old Country, may be in the offing for Parksville.

A motion to examine the possibility of building such a market was unanimously approved at the regular meeting of Parksville and District Chamber of Commerce.

All those interested in such a market will be invited to attend a chamber meeting to be held soon.

VARIED PRODUCTS

Gene Terrien, vice-president, outlined ideas for the market which he said could offer anything from fruits and vegetables to home cooking and preserves offered by women's groups and organizations.

For April 6

Four-Horse Teams Sought

DUNCAN—Cowichan plowing match committee members hope four-horse teams will compete in this year's competition to be held April 6 at the farm of Stanley Owen at Cowichan Station. The match will be officially opened by provincial Minister of Agriculture Frank Richter and judges will be the brothers George and Henry Thomson from Chilliwack.

NINE COMPETITORS

Committee secretary Mrs. Betty Westwick said so far nine competitors are lined up for the B.C. championship to be held at the same day and it is anticipated approximately 70 will contest in the regular class.

The B.C. winner will compete for the Canadian championship during the first week in October in Ontario.

Epilepsy Society
At Nanaimo

NANAIMO—The first branch of the B.C. Epilepsy Society on the Island was inaugurated in Nanaimo Wednesday.

Mayor Pete Maffeo, wishing the new branch success, said the city would give it all the cooperation possible.

"We will be interested in hearing of your progress. You are embarking on a very worthwhile job," he said. President of the B.C. Epilepsy Society, B. R. Jeffels, in presenting the charter to the branch, said "The B.C. Epilepsy Society is delighted that work on behalf of the epileptics will be extended through the formation of this new branch."

Cowichan Festival

Youbou Girl
Superb
With Sonatina

DUNCAN—The superb playing of Mozart's Adagio, Vionnese Sonatina No. 3, earned Youbou girl Andrea Collins a Cowichan Music Festival trophy with 89 points during the third day of the festival here.

Other scores in the same class for students 16 and under were: Becky Willoughby, 88 and pin; Carol Phillips and Helen Jackson, each 87; Maurcen Deburgh, 85; George Heyd, 84; Jean Webster Roberts, Barbara White, each 83.

Twenty-nine new Canadians received citizenship certificates yesterday from Judge M. L. Tyrwhitt-Drake at a swearing-in ceremony in the Law Courts.

Defence
Value
Queried

Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood yesterday questioned whether Victoria should bother to form its own civil defence organization.

He said the withdrawal of Esquimalt, leaving Victoria on its own, indicated the organization was "falling apart" at the seams, adding, "People don't seem to support civil defence."

Earlier withdrawal of the federal government from the scene leaving municipalities to form their own organization, Ald. Edgewood said, indicates Ottawa has "decided civil defence isn't necessary."

"You're jumping to conclusions," said Ald. J. L. W. McLean, chairman of the city's CD committee.

NO LESS VITAL

"There is no thought on the part of Ottawa that civil defence is less vital now than it was before. And it is not right to say that there is no interest and co-operation being shown towards civil defence on the part of local people."

Ald. Edgewood wanted to know if the chairman "as an old army man" didn't feel that the falling apart of the local organization was "a backward step."

FELT IMPROVEMENT

"I have no right to express an opinion," retorted Ald. McLean, "but those officials responsible for civil defence at both the federal and provincial levels feel this system is an improvement over the old one. For the moment I am content to accept their expert opinion."

Firing Trials
Next Week

Navy gun firing trials will be carried out in the Race Rocks, Trial Island area from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Department of Transport announced Thursday.

Fourth Major Route
Planned in Oak Bay

Oak Bay is taking steps to create its fourth major north-south route with southeast extension of Midland Road which will give Uplands residents a direct link to Oak Bay Village.

A total of $190,215 will have been spent on the new route, if things go according to plan.

The municipality's other major north-south routes are Fair Bay Road, Cadboro Bay Road and Bench Drive.

$81,000 EXTENSION

The scheme, which will go before Oak Bay council Monday night, calls for an $81,000 extension of Midland from Lansdowne to Dorset, use of Musgrave which was improved last year at a cost of about $20,000, and $85,215 worth of local improvements to be made on Hampshire Road from Oak Bay Avenue north to Bowker.

Cost of the Midland extension would be paid for by the municipality, the Uplands company and the frontagers on Midland.

22 PER CENT

Hampshire Road frontagers will be asked to pay 22 per cent of the total cost of improvements to their section of the new route.

The Hampshire Road improvement, initiated by council, calls for widening from 28 to 36 feet, installation of street lights and construction of gutters, curbs and two concrete sidewalks.

Quietly standing in front of legislative buildings Thursday are 600 Victoria University students in a demonstration for increased government grants.

15,000 Sign Petition

University Fund Drive
By Students to Go On

More than 400 Victoria University students last night collected about 15,000 signatures under a petition asking more funds for higher education from the provincial government.

Seventy-five per cent of the faculty members will sign the petition, said Victoria University student council president Alf Petersen, quoting faculty association president Dr. J. B. MacLean.

CANVASS TO CONTINUE

Results from students who went to Duncan in a bus yesterday afternoon to collect signatures were not yet known at press time. The canvass will continue today and Saturday in all major shopping centres in the Greater Victoria area.

MARCHED ON BUILDINGS

Earlier yesterday, 600 Victoria University students marched on the legislature in a surprise move, and those day, Tuesday and Wednesday, were no police, no shouts, no placards, no buses, not even curious MLAs or cabinet ministers.

ORDERLY RALLY

Yesterday's gathering may well go down in B.C. history as one of the most orderly conducted rallies of its kind.

A LONE COMMISSIONER

A lone commissioner handed demonstrators a copy of the Petition. Presently the following note:

"No person shall be liable for the taking up, possession, or use of any building, or other structure upon any path, lane, passage-way, or driveway through lands belonging to the Crown, or in building belonging to the Crown, whether or not the same has been dedicated or established as a public highway, or on the grounds, grounds, or areas appurtenant to or used in connection with government buildings, through the province."

"Notwithstanding the provisions of section 6 of this regulation, every person who violates any of the provisions of section 8 is liable on summary conviction, to a fine of not more than $25 for each day, upon which an offence is committed."

Faced with such a thorough order-in-council, the 600 students just stayed long enough to make their point showing what they believe a university class could amount to, if the government does not grant more money for higher education.

"This is the size of the larger classes at UBC, and this is what we want to prevent," said Victoria University student council president Alf Petersen.

After his words, the students left as quietly as they had come, transported from the campus by six chartered buses.

They had formed a double line which was headed toward the legislative buildings with its tail end stretching to Thunderbird Park.

Meanwhile at the University of B.C. armories Thursday, more than 6,000 students jammed the building with hundreds left outside in the rain, at a mass meeting pressing for more money for university education.

Both UBC and Victoria University students Monday formed a joint action committee to achieve this goal.

Television Star Buys
Cottage at Deep Cove

Television star Sebastian Cabot has bought a small cottage and property at Deep Cove to use as a summer cottage and a retreat for friends.

Purchase of the property, formerly owned by Insp. A. F. C. Watts and Mrs. Watts, at 10801 Deep Cove Road, was completed by John Hicks of Sidney Realty after Mr. Cabot left Sidney for Hollywood at noon Thursday.

Price involved was not disclosed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will live on the property for some months. Mr. Cabot is not expected to return to the area until summer.

Mr. Cabot has been looking at various properties in the area since he was in Victoria last summer.

Walkathon Entries Total 51

Prizes Ready for Different Categories

Fifty-one Greater Victoria residents from 14 to 63 years of age so far have indicated they want to have a crack at the March 30, 1963, Colonist 50-mile Walkathon.

They'll have to get up at the crack of dawn to be in line for the 5 a.m. starting time on that Saturday, but this should prove a cinch for any dedicated walker.

Why is the Colonist staging a mass walk?

The idea behind the Walkathon is to make the people realize how much fun it is to walk, how healthy it is for the body and how much better regular walkers feel generally. Of course, there will be prizes, too, some for the fastest walkers who come in first in their class, other hidden time prizes for those who maintain a regular pace.

A look at the age-and-the-sex of the 51 entrants to the Colonist Walkathon shows they come from all age groups:

- Six female walkers from 17 to 57.
- Four young girls, all 11.
- Twenty-two men from 17 to 63.
- Nineteen boys from 14 to 16.

These are the four classes: female senior (17 and up); female junior (11 to 16); male senior (17 and up) and male junior (11 to 16).

Quite obviously, a 63-year-old man cannot really compete against a 23-year-old man, unless, of course, the elderly man is an avid walker and the young man is a behind-the-TV-set sitting type who walks only to the corner store, his office, or his car.

But no entrant in the Walkathon should despair. The hidden time prizes along the route start at city point, out to Saanich Peninsula, across the Cordova Bay area and back to city along Marine Drive, make it possible for everyone to win a handsome present.

Any junior or woman completing 25 miles in 10 hours, or any walker 30 miles in 20, will receive an award, probably a medal.

Exact route has been established by Colonist car columnist J. T. Jones, but police in the Greater Victoria area will have to give their consent before it can be published.

Colonist Walkathon officials hope to disclose the route in Sunday's Colonist.

Trial 'Unfair'

Major Ruled Not Guilty

OTTAWA (CP)—The Court Martial Appeal Court Thursday acquitted Maj. William Allan Platt of trafficking illegally in gold in Indochina in 1961.

The three-member court in a unanimous judgment found that the 45-year-old army officer, convicted by a court martial here in May, 1962, did not receive a fair trial.

"The conviction cannot stand," said Mr. Justice T. G. Norris who wrote the court's reason for judgment.

GROUND FOR APPEAL

Mr. Justice Norris said Maj. Platt, formerly of Colborne and Picton, Ont., suffered "substantial injustice" with respect to eight of 11 grounds on which he based his appeal to the court martial appeal court.

The court granted Maj. Platt's appeal against his conviction, heard by the court last October, and ordered that "a finding of not guilty be recorded."

ON TRUCE TEAM

Maj. Platt was convicted of a breach of army discipline while serving with the International Truce Supervisory Commission in Indochina.

A court martial found him guilty of organizing and participating in the illegal transportation of gold between Laos and South Viet Nam.

He received a $300 fine and was given a severe reprimand—a notation on his service record that affected his opportunities for promotion.

The judgment took strong exception to a decision of the judge advocate-general (Brig. W. J. Lawson) to refuse a request by R. K. Lashley, civil

Rail Strike

France Faces New Crisis

PARIS (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle Thursday took personal command of efforts to end the worst labor crisis of his regime and was faced immediately with a new strike threat by 300,000 more nationalized workers.

De Gaulle presided over a restricted meeting of cabinet ministers directly connected with the French economy which the president fears is endangered by the strike wave spearheaded by 200,000 deficit coal miners.

RAIL STRIKE

But shortly after the cabinet group met, rail union leaders ordered the approximately 300,000 employees of the state-operated French railways to stage a 24-hour strike today. The walkout, in protest against government rejection of demands for pay raises, is certain to halt the nation's rail system.

The central strike committee representing 200,000 state-employed coal miners rejected the government's first positive step to end the miners' two-week old strike.

GOVERNMENT COMMITTEE

The government announced Thursday it would appoint a committee to investigate the miners' demand for an 11 percent wage increase and a reduction in working hours from 47 to 40.

Up to Their Old Tricks

Exiled City Playgirls Irk Siberian Wives

MOSCOW (AP)—Irate Siberian housewives are protesting against exiling big city playgirls to their villages.

Speaking for the aroused village women, Mrs. V. Marina of Irkutsk, made the protest in the Moscow newspaper Literaturnaya Gazeta.

Mrs. Marina said she was incensed by reports from Leningrad that a young woman of easy virtue named Tosca was slated for exile to Siberia to mend her ways.

This is simply offensive and insulting for us Siberians," she wrote. "Won't this piece of goods from the capital find addressers even in a new place? She probably will."

"I know that the wives of a few Bodabio miners, for example, turned to the authorities with a request to quit sending the likes of Tosca to Bodabio."

Mrs. Marina's attack on the flashy homewreckers from the big cities was the latest in a series of complaints from the provinces about the flood of hooligans, idlers and undesirable who have been exiled to villages.

The exiles are supposed to be re-educated through manual labor on the farms. But reports indicate they are mostly drinking, brawling, thieving and loafing.

So the peasants are mad at the city people for dumping their problems on them.

"This desire to push their unfinished goods onto others is wrong," Mrs. Marina wrote.

provisions of new legislation—"An Act Respecting Universities"—introduced in the legislature Thursday.

It also creates a new Simon Fraser University somewhere in the Lower Fraser Valley.

Introduced by Education Minister Leslie Peterson, the bill creates an organization

common to all the public universities, including UBC.

It also allows for complete autonomy for all three and creates two new advisory boards.

Also made possible are increased university grants this year.

Under provisions of the legislation, Mr. Clearihue is designated chancellor of the university for at least six months after the bill—almost certain to pass the legislature—comes into effect July 1.

Outside the House, Mr. Peterson had nothing specific to say about increased financial aid to the universities over and above grants already announced.

But under a section "funds" the bill says:

"That in the event there is no legislative vote this year to provide funds for the universities, 'or in the event of an insufficiency therein' Premier Bennett, as finance minister, and Mr. Peterson can recommend supplying the funds out of general revenue."

He also said later that he was "confident" there would be an improvement in federal financial aid for education.

URGENT REQUIREMENT

This was because there was unanimous opinion across the country that greater federal aid for education was an "urgent requirement," he said.

The July 1 date for the legislation was selected by the boards of UBC and Victoria University as the date they wanted it to come into force, he said.

The legislation had been gone over by the committee he set up and "approved in principle" by the boards of both universities, he added.

MORE FLEXIBLE

Little in the legislation changes any of the powers of the universities, but makes the operations of various governing bodies more flexible.

The flexibility will allow the three institutions to conduct

Arabs Map New Union

DAMASCUS (UPI)—A joint Egyptian-Iraqi-Syrian commission was formed in Cairo Thursday to negotiate a federal union between the three nations, the Syrian government said Thursday night.

The action was announced by new Premier Salah el Bitar, a member of the Arab Baathist party which advocates such a union.

He said the union would be open to Algeria and the Yemen if they wanted to join.

Delegates from the new Syrian and Iraqi governments went to Cairo Thursday for talks with Egyptian officials aimed at laying the groundwork for such unity.

Bitar said the commission would negotiate and establish the basis for a federal union. The findings of the proposed commission must be unanimous and would later form the basis for a plebiscite in all three nations "which must be carried out quickly," Bitar said.

Bitar said the federation also would be open to "any other Arab nation that liberates itself."

B.C. Told Of Crash Via U.S.

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—A Washington state trooper telephoned the RCMP here Thursday with news of a highway death more than 100 miles outside his patrol area.

He was relaying a radio message picked up by Tom Erdman, an amateur radio operator in the small Washington town of Chicago who monitored a call for help from a Californian tourist enroute to Alaska.

The Californian, who had a radio transmitter in his car, said an unidentified man had jumped in front of a truck about 10 miles north of Prince George.

Liberal Platform Ridicule—John D

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Thursday night that derision of Canada and ridicule of himself are "part and parcel" of the Liberal party plan.

"This is what you're voting on," he told an audience of 1,100 which crowded a high school auditorium here.

In a 30-minute speech Mr. Diefenbaker presented his Conservative party's five-year "confederation plan" to provide 1,000,000 new jobs, expand the country and work for international peace.

INDEXED

He attacked Liberal defence policy as a "conglomerate mess of indecision, indecisiveness, evasion, and uncertainty," and said no one knew what the Liberal policy would be if that party were elected April 8.

Mr. Diefenbaker hit hardest at what he called "the Liberal program: Deride Canada, downgrade Canada, hold up Canada's prime minister to ridicule as never before."

In an apparent reference to the recent issue of Newsweek magazine with a cover story on himself, he asked: "Did you see the American magazine that came in to destroy me?"

LOW MENTALITY

He referred to "Madison Avenue experts" who have produced a coloring book which showed "the equivalent mentality of a four-year-old."

By TERRY HAMMOND
Colonist Legislative Reporter

The B.C. government moved swiftly and without warning yesterday to block efforts of its public accounts committee to secure copies of an RCMP report on a Trans-Canada Highway project.

The committee is probing serious accusations against the department and Highways Minister Gagliardi by Montana contractor Dick Holzworth.

Charges of "stalling" in attempting to gain access to the report were levelled by some committee members Tuesday at Chairman Irvine Corbett.

Mr. Corbett promised then he would ask leave of the House as soon as possible to obtain the report.

He made his move at the end of yesterday's legislative sitting.

But it was effectively blocked by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

A resolution made by Mr. Corbett to the effect that the committee's request for the report be approved could not be dealt with without the unanimous consent of the House.

PUBLIC POLICY

"I would have to oppose as public policy," said Mr. Bonner. His move brought cries of "shame" and "shocking" from opposition benches.

Outside the House, Mr. Bonner said that police reports are never made public and that there was no justification for placing them in the hands of MLAs.

BLACKGUARD THREAT

"In the hands of an unscrupulous government they could be used to blackmail everybody in sight."

They are not even shown to judges during court cases nor to presiding officers of a royal commission.

EFFECTIVENESS

Their release would destroy police effectiveness because much of their content is obtained upon condition that it not be made public.

Mr. Bonner touched briefly on Opposition leader Robert Strachan's objections during committee hearing earlier this week that committee counsel Lloyd McKenzie had been allowed the same access to the police report that was being denied to members.

PROCEDURE CITED

He said this is standard procedure for counsel, "who enjoy a special position," and can use such reports upon which to base questioning of witnesses.

In the case of Mr. McKenzie, he added, he was accorded the special privilege of examining the report so that he would know what witnesses to call to obtain evidence relevant to the committee probe.

HEARSAY

The report is only hearsay evidence, he said, and to produce it as evidence at the committee hearings "would violate practically every concept of fair play and jurisprudence in our society."

Nobody who understood the situation properly would want to receive the report.

He pointed out that the committee is sitting in judgment in the probe and that it should not want hearsay evidence.

OBSTACLES?

Mr. Strachan said outside the house that it was an obvious attempt to place obstacles in the committee's path.

The committee is probing allegations that Highways Minister Gagliardi promised to reward a contracting company if it paid off a friend's debt of $6,702 and that a related contract was awarded.

Biggest Rally for Grits

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Liberal Leader Pearson made three speeches Thursday night to accommodate a big mass rally, largest so far in his April 8 election campaign.

He spoke to a crowd estimated at about 6,000 persons in the London arena, then spoke twice to about 1,200 more in a nearby school who had been unable to get into the arena when the doors were locked.

"I don't like pro-Canadian on one side of a coin that has anti-American on the other," Mr. Pearson told an arena audience which was generous with its applause.

Woman Pedestrian Dies After Mishap

A woman pedestrian who was struck by a car at Cook and Oxford March 3 died last night at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. Josephine Cress, 84, of 1138 Oxford had been in critical condition since the accident.

She is Victoria's fourth traffic fatality in 1963.
